NAB ESCAPED CONVICT IN BATTLE

Sensational Arrests Made at Fresno; Two Dying From Bullet Wounds

FRESNO, Nov. 15.—An escaped convict and a constable are reported dying from bullet wounds, another escaped convict was captured in sensational fashion here early today and a Los Angeles taxicab driver is being held as a result of a series of holdups in this vicinity during the past three days.

Frank Purio, escaped convict, is dying.

Constable George W. Boyle, 60, of Kingsburg, is suffering from gunshot wounds that are expected to prove fatal.

James H. Gregg, 29, who escaped with Purio from the Folsom prison camp at Chowchilla, is in jail, charged with murder and highway robbery.

Albert Woodworth, a taxicab driver of Los Angeles, is held for investigation.

Escape From Camp

The fourth member of the bandit gang, Jack Conway, who was assisted in escaping from the prison camp by Purio and Gregg, is being sought by a posse of deputy sheriffs and citizens.

According to the police, Purio and Gregg escaped from the Folsom prison camp at Chowchilla a week ago. They stole a machine and went to Los Angeles where they hired Woodworth, who operates a taxicab stand at 316 North Main street to drive them to Saugus, forty miles north of Los Angeles.

There, according to Woodworth, Purio and Gregg told him that they planned a series of holdups among the Japanese road camps in the vicinity and that he was to drive his car for them. If he refused, according to Woodworth, Purio and Gregg said they would kill him.

FINANCE LEADER HELD IN RUM RING

Federal Grand Jury Hearings In Frisco Continued Another Week

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—With many sensational disclosures promised, the life of the federal government's drive against Pacific coast rum runners, including a score of prominent Canadians, was continued today for another week.

Important eleven-hour information reaching the office of United States District Attorney Sterling Carr, included a reported confession of a member of the ring for the jury's holding over after it had refused to file a public report of its findings as requested by Federal Judge Partidge.

At the same time federal officials declared their belief that in the surprise arrest of Vincent Quarataro, wealthy president of the Royal Finance Co. they had found the "financial" agent of the American-Canadian ring responsible for flooding the Pacific coast with Scotch and Canadian whiskey.

'Dynamite' Killing Case Looms In Mayor Death

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 15.—W. F. Crawford, mayor of the town of Los Olivos, near here, who recently was acquitted with two other prominent Santa Barbara county citizens for the "dynamite" murder of J. J. McGuire, village blacksmith, dropped dead at his Los Olivos home today.

50 Fishermen Thought Lost as 12 Boats Sink

TOKIO, Nov. 15.—Twelve fishing boats were sunk and ten are missing in a storm that swept Shikotsu island off the Hokkaido coast line. A toll of fifty lives is believed to have been taken by the storm.

Laying of Temple Cornerstone Seen By Local Masons

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—With representatives from all parts of the country in attendance, Los Angeles members of the Mystic Shrine participated here today in laying of the cornerstone of the order's new $1,000,000 temple, Imperial Potentate James E. Chandler of Kansas City gave an address at the cornerstone laying ceremonies. A delegation of Masons from Glendale, a number of them in uniform, were in attendance at the ceremonies.

VOLCANO IN MEXICO IS ACTIVE

Famed Nemesis Popocatepetl Again Flaming Mountain Gaining In Violence

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 15.—Popocatepetl, the flaming mountain of Mexico, was again in eruption today. Clouds of ashes and sand were belched out in such volume that the sun was hidden. Partial dusk lay over the region of the volcano.

The ice cap of the lofty peak is melting. The eruption is gaining in violence.

Bandits who make the foothills their hiding place, suggest Popocatepetl will prevent any observations by scientists. Only the natives in the immediate neighborhood need feel any alarm, it was believed.

State Bankers Reserve 400 Plates at Banquet

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—Approximately 400 reservations have been made for the regular fall dinner of group five, California Bankers' association, according to A. A. Calkins, secretary. The dinner will be served at Hotel Virginia, Long Beach, tonight, with representatives from Los Angeles, Ventura and Inyo counties in attendance. W. A. Kennedy, vice president of the First National bank of Pomona, will preside.

WOMAN IS FREED

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—Charged with the murder of Claude Arnett during a fight in a cafe, Clara Henderson, a waitress, was free today. A jury brought in a verdict of justifiable homicide, finding the man had attacked Miss Henderson.

CHARGES DISMISSED

SANTA ANA, Nov. 15.—Alfonso P. Fonseca, 47, said to have been a brigadier general with the Canadian army during the World War, and scion of a wealthy Winnipeg, Canada, family, was a free man here today, charges of embezzlement against him having been dismissed.

BULGARIANS KILLED IN ATTACK

SMOLLYAR, Bulgaria, Nov. 15.—Twenty Bulgarians, including Ciardaroff, their commander, were killed and as many villagers fell in an attack on this village. Jugo-Slav troops were sent in pursuit of the attackers.

MUSSOLINI PREVENTS TEST OF STRENGTH

ROME, Nov. 15.—Premier Mussolini's strategy prevented a test of the government's strength in the Chamber of Deputies today. With feeling against the Fascist running so high that many members of the Chamber have boycotted Parliament, the premier would not let the vote today take the form of a vote of confidence in the government. He followed a general policy of limiting debate to discussion of foreign affairs, thus making sure that Giolitti and other leaders known to oppose strongly Mussolini's domestic policies would vote with the government.

RAIL STOCKS WAVERING IN PRICE

Decline Due to Switching, Profit-Taking Sales; Sugar Stronger

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Stocks were pressed for sale in the early trading today in the second wave of profit taking which has passed over the market this week and prices of many of the active industrial and railroad stocks showed signs of wavering.

The selling was mostly in the stocks which have been pushing forward quite briskly in the last few days, the oils, coppers, industrials suffering slight losses.

At the same time and as the result of "switching" from one result of "switching" from one ward movements were going on in the sugar stocks, the shipping and textile stocks and in some of the motors. Marine preferred and American International corporation carried their rallies a little higher. Great Western Sugar gained 2 points at 92 1/2; American Woolen climbed a point; Atchison added a point at 112 and New York Central was in demand around the new high level established this week.

Iron Pipe Declines

Vastly improved sentiment in business and better buying of commodities was reported by Dun's and Bradstreet's agencies in their week-end reviews, and commodity prices were steady; gasoline was up one cent a gallon in local territory. Continuation of a large buying demand made conditions favorable for profit taking for traders who purchased at considerably lower prices.

A decline of five points in Cast Iron Pipe and heaviness in American Can and other high priced industrials was attributed to reports that the shorts had made satisfactory settlements and that danger of a "squeeze" had thus been eliminated for the time being. American Water Works was an exception, moving up four points to 119.

Sinclair and Marland Oil stocks declined under heavy selling and the oil stocks as a group showed more irregularity than at any other time this week. Marland's third quarterly statement showed the effect of the heavy decline in inventories since June. After charging out $3,376,864 for inventory depreciation the company reported a deficit of $2,428,681 in the three months ended September 30. Sinclair was sold as the result of the re-entry of the company into the bond market as a borrower.

Outside markets were fairly steady, cotton prices were practically unchanged and grains fractionally lower. Liberty bonds were again reactionary; industrial and railroad bonds steady.

Stock sales today, 728,400 shares; bonds $9,440,000. Stock sales for the week, 11,753,300 shares; bonds $107,389,000.

Mrs. Harding Improves Slightly, Sawyer Says

MARION, Ohio, Nov. 15.—"Mrs. Harding has made a slight change for the better," Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, her physician reported in an official bulletin issued at noon today. Her pulse is said to be stronger and she has been gaining a little. Mrs. Harding, after a restless night, has been sleeping since 7:15 o'clock this morning.

EAST BAY CITIES FACE MILK TIE-UP

Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley Organization Ask for 29-Cent Gallon

OAKLAND, Nov. 15.—East bay cities, aggregating more than a half million of people and including the municipalities of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley, faced the possibility today of an immediate milk strike.

The East Bay Milk Producers' association, a co-operative organization which claims to control 97 per cent of the milk supply of the region, met to issue the strike order which, it was said, would cut off the milk supply until distributors agree to pay 29 cents per gallon wholesale, as against price of from 18 to 25 cents per gallon now prevailing.

The situation is a result of a milk war of three years' duration which has forced the retail price of milk down to 8 cents a quart—the lowest in the United States.

Fireman Fight All Night Against Big Jersey City Blaze

Explosions continued and flames still raged today in the ruins of factories and tenements laid waste by fire—this city's greatest—yesterday.

All through the night, firemen, their faces wan and ghastly in the fitful glare of the blaze, their bodies almost numb with exhaustion, continued their efforts to extinguish the conflagration suddenly loosed by an explosion in the Battelle & Renwick salt-peter works. Latest estimates were that 2000 persons had been made homeless. Property damage will reach $6,000,000, it was reported.

FATHER OF BRIDE IS NEGRO

Daughter Married Wealthy New York White Man; Parent Naturalized

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 15.—On the naturalization papers of George Jones, whose daughter, Beatrice Alice Jones, of New Rochelle, married Leonard Kip Rhineland, member for one of New York's wealthiest and most distinguished families, appears in the declaration of intended citizenship.

"I, George Jones (colored man), do hereby declare by oath that it is my bona fide intention to become a citizen of the United States and do now renounce all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate, state or sovereignty whatever, and particularly to the queen of Great Britain and England, of whom I am a subject."

In the papers Jones said he was born in Leicestershire, England, on May 12, 1859, came to the United States from Liverpool in May, 1891. He gave his address as 485 Pelham road, New Rochelle. His business, he said, was that of contractor.

Three Children

Jones married Elizabeth Brown, a white woman, of Lincolnshire, England. There are three children—Emily Elizabeth, born December 4, 1895; Beatrice Alice, born June 19, 1899, and Grace Marie, born July 19, 1903, all in Pelham, the certificate stated. Jones became an American citizen on May 24, 1912, before Supreme Court Justice Morschauer.

The marriage license of his daughter, Emily Elizabeth, who married Robert David Brooks, a Pelham man, was dated on March 6, 1915, also is on file here and reads:

"Emily Elizabeth Jones, of New Rochelle, a waitress, born in Pelham, 19 years old, and colored; father, George Jones; mother, Elizabeth Brown, both born in England."

"Married to Robert David Brooks of Pelham manor, 22 years old and colored, born in Virginia. Father, Elex Brooks, mother, Mollie Williams, both of the United States."

SPIRIT OF REAL SERVICE PREVAILS AT CONVENTION

Annual District Gathering of Kiwanians Is Opened at Santa Barbara; Comradship And Friendliness Are Features

By M. D. DAVIS
Of The Evening News Staff.

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 15.—Flying with Dr. T. C. Young from Glendale to Santa Barbara to attend the fourth annual convention of the California-Nevada district of Kiwanis, is in itself a thrill, but to be present when the representatives of forty-two Kiwanis clubs were called to order by Governor Heber Winder, and to see and participate in the "We Build" spirit manifest by those 1000 and more Kiwanians, was even greater.

The great growth of the service idea, the extension of the definite ideal to build citizenship and to develop the human side of every-day relations and the rapid increase in organization and scope marked the first session of the California district of International Kiwanis yesterday at Recreation center.

At noon intimate, jovial good fellowship, apparent throughout the proceedings, reached a climax in the close of the happy session of the morning and the adjournment to luncheon, a luncheon of vast proportions, served on more than a half mile of tables at the American Film studios on State street, at which more than 1000 were present. Though the luncheon was followed by an afternoon business session and discussion of executive affairs, the spirit of comradeship and genuine friendliness was not lost for a moment, and the outstanding feature of the gathering which has brought to Santa Barbara members of Kiwanis from all over California, Nevada and from Canada, is the constant expression of the ideals upon which it is founded.

Governor's Report

The report of Governor Winder for the past year conveyed some idea of the growth of Kiwanis since its organization in California, and the detailed statement of the acknowledged work of various individuals and districts, expressed unmistakably the keen devotion with which the cause of Kiwanis has been served by its members. Through the whole proceedings Jules Brazil twinkled, and with a constant supply of graceful and witty interludes and gestures, focused the spirit of the gathering in a central figure at the morning session, through the luncheon and during the afternoon. Past Governor W. R. Brown of Glendale presided at the day's business sessions.

Councilman George K. Freeman of Santa Barbara, acting for Mayor C. M. Anders, welcomed the convention in the name of the city's official family and all Santa Barbara. Mr. Freeman spoke of the deep significance of service clubs, of which Kiwanis was the leader, in the building of citizenship and the effect for good upon the individual exerted by them. "Bill" Widenham of Los Angeles, first governor of Kiwanis in California, responded and accepted the figurative keys of the city extended by Councilman Freeman for the conference members.

Notables among the visitors, including Karl Keeler, Frank Brown, Fred Deal, Dale King, A. B. Watson, Nathan Goombs and Fred Kistman, were introduced or referred to, with affection when absent, and Dr. Burton Meyers, of the University of Indiana, was greeted by "Moonlight On the Wabash" upon his presentation to the audience.

Introduced by past Governor Brown as the ideal Kiwanis leader and one who possessed 100 per cent the qualities which make up the necessary composition of a head of the organization, Heber Winder presented the year's report as the important business feature of the morning. Governor Winder told briefly of the institution of Kiwanis in California in its Los Angeles club in 1920, and of the devotion with which its ideals had been served by such men and leaders as William Brown, Les Henry and William Widenham, the first governors.

The governor gave a report on the starting of The Digest, the periodical issued by the district office and of the sterling service ideals had been served by such men and leaders as William Brown, Les Henry and William Widenham, the first governors.

The governor gave a report on the starting of The Digest, the periodical issued by the district office and of the sterling service ideals had been served by such men and leaders as William Brown, Les Henry and William Widenham, the first governors.

"Kiwanis," he said, "is still in the formative stage. It is still pioneering here. If things have been left undone, it is because of these things, and they have been omissions of the mind, and not of the heart."

San Diego will be the convention place of 1925 Kiwanis Inter-Hurry, Folks! Send Your Limericks To The Evening News! Cash Paid Winners!

Hey, boy! How those limericks are coming in! Everybody's writing 'em! Come on, folks, swamp the Limerick Editor of The Glendale Evening News! It's easy to write a limerick—and when you get paid for it, well, that's a happy feeling!

As was announced in The Glendale Evening News last night, this newspaper will pay $3 for the best limerick received on or before midnight of Monday, November 17, 1924. It will pay $2 for the next best and $1 for the third best received on or before that date.

All limericks must be addressed to: LIMERICK CONTEST EDITOR, The Glendale Evening News, 139 South Brand, and must be signed with name and address of composer. None will be returned. The prize winners and a number of the other best limericks submitted will be published. And, remember this: Where more than one person sends in a prize-winning limerick, the one WHO SENDS IT FIRST will get the prize. So good the old bean up a bit and make it zippy!

The Glendale Evening News last night published four limericks as samples. Tonight are given some more samples. Try 'em on your phonograph—or broadcast 'em. Here's one:

A stranger sojourning in Iowa
Thought of thirst he was destined to die away;
Now he spends all his days
Where the soda fountain plays,
And has very near winked his left eye away.

Be that as it may, we know a man who knows a man who knows a bootlegger and he says (who says?) that it's not at all necessary to wink. Perhaps not. Anyway, let's change the subject. Try this one:

A distinguished old one-legged colonel
Once started to edit a jolnel,
But soon in disgust
He gave up—he was "bust!"

"For," said he, "the 'expense' infolnel."
Probably that one was composed by some ex-editor. Probably, too, he came from the south. Anyway, it contains a lotta meat. Now then, let's slip over another one. Hold tight, here it goes:

There was a young lad of Calcutta,
Whenever he spoke he would stutter.
To his teacher, said he,
"P-p-lease t-tell me,
Is a b-butress a f-feminine b-butress?"
Isn't that a sad example? Surely limerick fiends in Glendale can put over much better ones. How does this strike you?

Steck to Demand Recount of Iowa Election Ballots

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 15.—Dan F. Steck, Democratic candidate for the United States Senate from Iowa, will demand a recount of ballots in the recent senatorial race by the United States Senate, claiming that some 50,000 ballots on which voters attempted to exercise a choice for senator were not counted by local election boards.

The Democratic nominee said the contest would be brought about, not through any personal desire to hold the office, but to see that the will of the electorate be carried out.

PAIR SOUGHT IN MURDER LOCATED

Police Believe Man, Woman Know Who Killed Harry Katz Monday Night

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—"Stan the Bouncer," said to be a former San Francisco cafe worker, and more recently a Los Angeles police officer, and a beautiful girl known as "Rose the Wop," have been traced to San Jose, Cal., by detectives and are expected to be arrested before night in connection with the murder of Harry I. Katz, connoisseur of violins and diamonds, police said today.

The pair was said to have blackmailed Katz for months and was believed by police to know how the diamond expert was killed in his Los Angeles apartment Monday night.

Two Released

Chase Carroll, husband of Mrs. Dorothy Carroll, known as Katz' "last sweetheart," and his roommate, Earl Bridges, were released after being questioned for 24 hours in connection with the murder. Police were finally convinced the two men had nothing to do with the crime.

Morris Katz, brother of the slain broker, has asked police for special officers to guard the funeral procession when Katz is buried tomorrow. Fear that crowds of curious would interfere with the funeral cortege was expressed.

TIGERS AND BULLDOGS CLASH ON GRIDIRON

Blues Score Field Goal And Then Touchdown In Third Period

PALMER STADIUM, PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 15.—The Yale Bulldog came back to life here this afternoon before a howling, frenzied mob of some 55,000, who were treated to one of the greatest upsets of the year's Big Three schedule. Yale completely reversed the popular expectations by neatly handing the Princeton Tiger a 10 to 0 lacing.

The first score came early in the first period, when Ducky Pond dropped back of Yale's 20-yard line and sent a perfect drop kick through the bars. Again in the third period Yale added a touchdown and a moment later converted.

The Tiger picked all along as a sure winner, having swept aside mighty Harvard with all ease just a week prior to today's battle, was completely subdued by the Blue. But for a semblance of a stone-wall defense in the first period of the battle, Yale had distinctly the upper hand and never let up in its smashing plays until the last few minutes of play when a few substitutes were made.

Savings Stamps Forgery Nipped

U. S. Agent Holds Cleveland Lawyer In Alleged Nation-Wide Plot

CLEVELAND, Nov. 15.—What is declared to have been a nation-wide plot to manufacture and sell bogus $5 war savings certificates was exposed here today with the arrest of J. V. Zottarelli, Cleveland attorney, in a berth of a Pullman just as he arrived from Washington.

The arrest was made by William Harper of the United States secret service who said one of the biggest plots in the history of counterfeiting had been unearthed.

War savings stamps, dated 1919, to the amount of more than $5,000,000 had been printed in Chicago and distributed throughout the country, he said.

PLUMBERS' FIRM IN CELEBRATION

Coker & Taylor Give Dinner
To Employees, Honoring
Finish of Contract

More than forty plumbers and plumbers' helpers, employees of the Coker & Taylor firm of Glendale, who finished the quarter million dollar Hall of Justice job yesterday, were guests of their employers at a stag dinner at the Pullman Grill, 121 West Broadway, last night.

Proud of their accomplishment in completing the second largest plumbing contract ever let in Los Angeles in record time and at a profit to the firm, even after ruin had been predicted by competing bidders, employees and employers joined in a friendly evening of celebration around the banquet table.

E. Coker and R. L. Taylor, L. A. Mathis, superintendent; William Kinross, foreman; J. H. Hyatt, city inspector, and Allen Kykendell, assistant chief county inspector, were speakers of the evening.

Owners Grateful
The firm owners expressed their gratitude at the loyal efforts of their employees who had carried off the job to such a successful conclusion. Likewise did Superintendent Mathis express his appreciation of the work of the men. After Mr. Kinross had spoken he was presented with a handsome set of sterling silver by the men in honor of his completion of the job at the Hall of Justice and his twenty-fifth wedding anniversary which occurs today.

Inspectors Hyatt and Kykendell praised the plumbing firm, its executive heads, and the workmen. They declared the Hall of Justice job one of the finest in the city of Los Angeles. Later in the evening each guest arose in his turn and made a short talk or otherwise entertained. A special jazz orchestra with several special features added to the enjoyment of the evening.

Incidentally, Glendale generally is proud of the fact that a Glendale firm successfully completed the second largest plumbing contract ever let in Los Angeles county.

Party Held at Church For 'Little Helpers'

Members of the Little Helpers' department of St. Mark's Episcopal church attended a party given for them in the Sunday school room of the church yesterday afternoon. The affair was in charge of Mrs. John Cate, superintendent of the department. Fifty-seven children are enrolled in the department and a good representation attended the party.

Ten children were graduated from the Little Helpers to the Beginners' department and each was presented with a bouquet of sweethearts. The children brought their mite boxes which they had been filling with money during the past year, and this money will be used for foreign and home missionary work.

Mrs. Albert Sullivan, one of the mothers present, entertained with vocal selections. Mrs. B. O. Holbrook, superintendent of the Little Helpers of the Episcopal church diocese, gave a short talk telling of the work of other departments in the diocese. Each mother gave a scripture reading about some child in the Bible and this was followed by the playing of games by the children. Tea and wafers were served to the mothers and orangeade and animal cookies were served the children. Mrs. Cate was assisted by Mrs. Albert Read.

Parent-Teachers Plan Card Party on Monday

Mrs. A. B. Bonham will open her home at 1219 Orange Grove avenue Monday afternoon to a bridge and five hundred card party as a benefit for the Wilson Avenue Parent Teachers' association, and invites the public to attend. Playing will start at 2 o'clock. Members of the Wilson Avenue Parent Teachers' association had charge of the cafeteria at the school yesterday and realized $100 from the sale of food. Mothers of the eighth grade pupils furnished prepared food.

Burglars Get Nothing But Window-Sill Dust

Burglars who last night broke into the house at 128 West Chestnut street were greeted by a profound and disappointing emptiness. Not only was the property vacant, it was unfurnished. They took out nothing but a little dust that had collected on the rear window-sill where they gained entrance, according to the police. The house is said to be owned by Joseph York.

DEATHS - FUNERALS

JEAN DA COSTA
Jean Da Costa, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Da Costa, 1206-D Viola street, who died Friday, November 14, 1924, at the Glendale Research hospital, was cremated this morning at Forest Lawn cemetery, the arrangements in charge of Kiefer & Eyerick, undertakers.

Death occurred when the child failed to rally from ether administered at the hospital to perform an operation on a broken arm, the father said.

Oil from the seeds of tarakogonos trees has cured many cases of leprosy, it is claimed.

On Credit

R. L. COLE, jeweler, of 106 East Broadway, who announces specials on credit for Thanksgiving. He states that he has many bargains to offer.

Specials in jewelry and silverware for Thanksgiving, on credit, are being featured by R. L. Cole, jeweler, 106 East Broadway. Selections can be made and the payments spread over a period of a year's time. The initial payment is also low. In speaking of his credit plan, Mr. Cole said: "This store has achieved an enviable reputation for quality—both as to merchandise and methods of transacting business. Cole's dignified credit gives you what you need, and when you need it; there are no delays and no red tape."

One of the unusual displays is that of Bird of Paradise, the new design in community plate silver. Many attractive values in diamonds are also offered.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

Some sly reader sends the writer of this column an editorial from a current issue of The Christian Science Monitor. The topic discussed is governmental economy. It follows the same trend of thought currently expressed in the Curtis publications, including The Country Gentleman.

All of this thought is very good for the general public, but there must be efficiency with economy, as Governor Richardson of the state of California insists. Efficient handling of the hoof and mouth disease cost this state lots of money, yet it likely saved greater losses in the future. So it goes that government costs money. The only thing the taxpayer can ask for is one hundred cents of service on the dollar.

As the Christian Science Monitor ably points out, business men should apply themselves to matters of local government. They are prone to let the politician do things his own way until the farmer-labor element throws a monkey wrench into the wheels of government.

The writer believes voters, as a class, are not sufficiently schooled in psychology to know a good man when they see him. Some bluff soul who makes merry with the crowd is hoisted into office because he is a jolly good fellow. We need more honest, but plain, ordinary men elected.

The elements, good, kind and tender as they may be, are treacherous things. In the East Indies yesterday 300 lives were lost in earthquakes. Fire destroyed many homes in Jersey City. Snow and sleet and floods all take their toll. Monsoons, typhoons, plagues, tidal waves, tornadoes or something else more or less elemental keep the world's people in constant danger.

Yet, what is the use of fear, anyway? Until the hour of doom no one should worry over fate. Spend those gloomy hours planning to make the world better. It can be done.

Glendale is going to have opportunity next week to display its civic spirit. The Community Welfare chest drive will be staged. There is one endeavor in which dollars may be made to talk!

Readers of The Glendale Evening News will note two prime attractions offered theatre-goers here. "The Border Legion" playing at the Gateway in film is an excellent melodrama which you and the children will enjoy. At the Club theatre the Dobinson Players are presenting "Adam and Eva," a clever farce drama which has been a great New York favorite.

Commerce Board Set For Membership Votes

CITY OFFICERS AT BOULDER MEET

Glendale Manager and Head
Of Plant Work Hear
Report on Dam

Virgil B. Stone, Glendale city manager, and Peter Diederich, superintendent of plant and production, are in Pomona today, representing this city at a gathering of Southern California municipal officials, convened for the purpose of hearing a report on the Boulder canyon dam project rendered by Mayor George E. Coyer of Los Angeles and William Mulholland, chief engineer of the Los Angeles bureau of waterworks and supply.

To finance and construct a system of the magnitude proposed, ten years will be required, Mr. Mulholland brought out in his report; and by the end of that period, supposing work were to start in the near future, the growth and development of Southern California will make it imperative that such a source of water supply be available.

Comprehensive Report
Mayor Coyer and Mr. Mulholland had visited earlier in the week, the site of the proposed intake for the canal, returning yesterday from the headwaters of the Colorado river. Their reports were comprehensive and were enthusiastically received by the large delegation of Southern California officials present at the meeting in Pomona today.

These officials have formed a tentative organization to further the Boulder canyon dam project, and further meetings will be held within the next few weeks, it was decided. The plan as outlined today contemplates supplying water from the Colorado river to all Southern California cities south of the Tehachapi.

CHEST WORKERS IN ROUSING MEET

Promoters Are Encouraged
Despite Absence of Many
At Kiwanis Confab

Workers for the Glendale Community Chest campaign held a rousing meeting last night at the I. O. O. F. hall. The hall was comfortably filled, which was reported encouraging considering that many of the best workers are away at the Kiwanis convention in Santa Barbara.

The meeting was addressed by W. E. Hewitt, president of the Chest; Roy L. Kent, chairman of the Executive Campaign committee, and Mrs. Dan Campbell, colonel of the Women's Team organization. Final instructions in regard to the solicitation were given by Campaign Director Haight.

Campaign workers will meet again at 9 o'clock Monday morning in front of the campaign headquarters at 246 South Brand boulevard. Starting out from headquarters they will meet again for luncheon in the dining room of the First Presbyterian church.

OPENING DEBATE OF SEASON HELD

Glendale High Wins at Home
But Loses to Jefferson
In Los Angeles

Glendale broke even with Los Angeles last night in the double-header debate between the Glendale Union High school and Jefferson High school teams, on the subject, "Resolved, That the Japanese exclusion clause in the immigration bill of 1924 should be repealed."

The Glendale debaters won the affirmative side here, at the Broadway High school auditorium, by a two to one decision, and lost the negative side at the Jefferson High school auditorium, in Los Angeles, by a two to one decision. The local debaters on the affirmative side were Bonnie Jean Lockwood and William Eggers, and on the negative side were Marie Griggs and Ward Foults. It was the first debate of the G. U. H. S. season.

Elmer Worthy, local debating coach, announces that a meeting of all Glendale Union High school debaters will be called some time next week, to make future plans.

GLENDALE SANITARIUM AND HOSPITAL

Dr. W. W. Wooster of San Gabriel gave a stereopticon lecture in the sanitarium parlor Thursday night.

Dr. A. J. Sanderson, director of the El Repaso Sanitarium, Berkeley, is spending a few days at the sanitarium.

Dr. Henry H. Harrower greatly pleased the patrons and friends of the Glendale Sanitarium before he left for England, by presenting a full set of furniture for the lobby. It consisted of nineteen overstuffed pieces, eight Wilton rugs, and several lamps. It is all that could be desired to make the lobby comfortable.

WE SELDOM COMPLAIN—

When the street car conductor fails to collect our fare.
When the assessor under-rates our property.
When the preacher attacks our neighbor's sins.
When a competitor gets stung.
When a salesgirl long changes us.
When the newspaper fails to publish our folly.
When the umpire gives the visiting team a raw deal.

FORMER OFFICIALS EFFICIENT

We human beings are fallible and prone to disagree. Often, time alone can vindicate our acts or prove us in the wrong. This was very clearly brought out at a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce when visiting speakers from nearby cities took occasion to compliment us on our wide streets, the lack of conflicting street names and the wisdom that was used by those who laid out the city.

It was mentioned that Central avenue is being widened at a cost ten times as great as would have been necessary ten years ago, but this is the exception that proves the rule. Brand boulevard and Broadway, two of our principal business thoroughfares, are beautiful, wide boulevards, the pride of Glendale and the envy and admiration of neighboring cities, including Los Angeles and Pasadena.

The editor of The Glendale Evening News has noticed, in his long newspaper career, that there is always a tendency to criticize public officials both for what they do and what they neglect to do. Each succeeding city council since he came to Glendale nearly twelve years ago has had to bear its share of censure. Members of the Glendale City Council have nearly always been conscientious and loyal to the interests of the city. They have served efficiently for a salary so meagre that it did not begin to pay them for the time spent at the weekly meetings. But, there were always those who thought the acts of the council members unwise, who charged them with extravagance, who deemed them incapable of administering the affairs of a city even as small as Glendale was at that time.

But, time has proved that these men were right in almost every instance. What seemed extravagance then in buying water bearing lands and building reservoirs, in laying out and building streets, in changing names of streets in annexed territory has proved to have been economical. They laid the foundation on which the present city of Glendale is being built, and they deserve the gratitude of the Greater Glendale for their unselfishness and capability. So many times we were censorious because we thought their acts unwise or unnecessary, but now we know that they were right.

T. W. Watson, as councilman, mayor and city manager, demonstrated his ability and good judgment. He did much of the planning in those early days that helped to make Glendale a splendid city. Some of the councilmen who deserve our thanks are A. W. Tower, George Williams, O. A. Lane, Joseph S. Thompson, Attorney Frank Muhleman, the late R. M. Jackson, Charles Grist, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Judge Hartley Shaw, George B. Woodbury, A. H. Lapham, W. A. Horn, Dwight W. Stephenson, Harry P. Coker, and perhaps others whose records were not so notable.

Attorney W. E. Evans, Attorney Frank Muhleman and Judge Hartley Shaw were capable city attorneys in the old days while Ed Lynch as city engineer, and Harry B. Lynch as manager of the public service department, met their share of criticism while performing services for Glendale for which money can never pay.

Today, other cities not so fortunate as Glendale, are complimenting us on the very conditions brought about by the acts of our public officials for which we condemned them in the past.

Why not give these officials who build so well our hearty thanks and at the same time be more tolerant toward the able and honorable men who are our present councilmen, Messrs. Robinson, Kimlin, Davis, Gilhuly and Hall, with Virgil B. Stone as city manager; Ray Morrow, city attorney; J. F. Johanssen, city engineer; Peter Diederich, superintendent of plant and production; John D. Fraser, chief of police; A. H. Lankford, chief of the fire department; A. J. Van Wie, city clerk; H. C. Vandewater, building superintendent; H. C. Saulsbury, city controller; J. C. Sherer, city treasurer. In fact, as one looks over the list of city employees, one reaches the conclusion that the municipal craft is well manned. As already stated, let us be more tolerant toward our city officials.

THE LEGION AND MILITARISM

Certain organizations have succeeded in stirring up a hornets' nest because the promotion of National Education week, November 16 to 23, has been turned over to the American Legion. This is the third year that the Legion has co-operated with the Bureau of Education and the National Educational Association, and according to Bureau officials the program is little altered from last year. The Legion, it is claimed, enables the campaign for better schools to be carried into remote districts which could not otherwise be reached.

The Young Women's Christian Association has refused to co-operate in Education week because the program had been turned over to a "Military organization." Protests have been received from the American Civil Liberties Union, the Woman's International League for Peace and Freedom, and the National Council for the prevention of war. These organizations all oppose suggested topics for speakers on Education week program denouncing the red flag, pacifists and communists.

It was only seven short years ago that we were all willing to entrust our national future to a "military organization" made up of the same young men who comprise the American Legion and who, it is safe to say, hate war with a greater intensity than any organization of pacifists or women can possibly hate it because they have had first-hand experience with all its horrors.

The men who went abroad to fight a foreign foe are concerned about the dangers that threaten our country from within. We can dispense with the services of any organization that cannot co-operate with them during Education Week.

DEBATING SEASON OPENS

The high school debating season got under way last night when Glendale broke even with the Jefferson High school of Los Angeles in a "double-header." The local debaters won the affirmative side at the Broadway school, but lost the negative side in Los Angeles. However, the local orators made a fine showing. More interest should be displayed in the debates. The Glendale High school debaters have, in the past, won league honors, and the general public should show more interest in their efforts. The public liberally supports the athletic side of the school's activities; the public should also cheer the debaters on to victory. Let us await the announcement of the next debate and then turn out in large numbers to sustain the youthful orators in their efforts to win fame for Glendale Union High school.

NOW THAT WE'VE ELECTED A CAPTAIN—!

What Price Glory

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A show was recently put on in New York, entitled, "What Price Glory." It aimed to be a realistic portrayal of life in the army during the recent Great War.

A movement was made to have the play suppressed, or in some way altered, on account of its being too profane.

The play is profane, obscene and exceedingly materialistic.

It is a good play because it represents conditions of war as they are and not as somebody has idealized them.

Unpleasant conditions underlie most of the organizations of society. Somebody has to wipe the dishes and sweep the floors in the home; somebody must bury the dead, somebody must clean away the rubbish and somebody must do the other dirty work wherever there are human beings assembled.

The trouble is that the foundations upon which war rests are the dirtiest known in the world. Wherever men are gathered together without the presence of women there is a tendency to slump. In war there is no restriction upon this tendency. Men speedily become beasts. In their actions, in their language and in their motives everything beastly comes forward.

One of the most real horrors of war is that a coarse and inferior man is placed in command over superior men. The tendency is to drag them down to his level.

War rests upon a basis of profanity, obscenity, brutality and indifference to human life.

It is the business of warriors to kill. It is the object of armies and of individual soldiers to kill as many of the enemy as possible.

War is human butchery on a large scale and there is no way to make it nice.

There are many people who would like to glorify war and to see only its poetry and a nobler side. They naturally resent a play that shows them as it is in all its horrible headlines.

I think the play is a good one because it represents war just exactly as it is.

Not exactly, either, but almost as it is. War is so infinitely obscene that, if men were to talk on the stage as they actually do on the field of battle, no civilized audience would stand for it. It would be too obscene and disgusting.

If there be any glory or honor in war it is bought at a high price of human misery and wretchedness, and it is well that we should be reminded occasionally of the price we pay.

Horoscope

Saturn in benefic aspect rules this day, according to astrology. The Sun and Mars are adverse.

It should be a most auspicious rule for real estate men who will be exceedingly active in many places.

Movement of population toward cities will continue, if the stars are read right and farming will be carried on eventually on a big scale by corporations instead of individuals.

California and Oregon are subject to a planetary rule making for great accessions of people from distant states, it is foretold. Between early morning and 2 o'clock in the afternoon of this day first-rate results should attend efforts along most constructive lines of business.

There is an especially good sign relating to tools and hardware; machinery and ironwork of all sorts.

Mars is in an aspect presaging much talk of war and preparedness and of setting this tendency will be many peace movements.

Women are declared to be preparing for great national work that will give them power through their gentler tendencies toward sympathy and humanitarian work.

Interest in art jewelry and costly pieces of artwork will be greater than ever before, if the stars are read right.

Beauty is to become more and more a watchword in America where there will be practical effort to unite it with what has been strictly utilitarian.

Scandals and libel suits will multiply in the next few months for men are to be even more reckless than formerly in all romantic affairs.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the forecast of an active happy, prosperous year. They probably will enjoy much novelty and travel.

Who's Who

The first soviet ambassador to France—following recent official recognition of the Red Russian government by the French republic, is expected to be Leo Kamenef.

Kamenef, brother-in-law of Leon Trotsky, and one of Nicolai Lenin's chief aides until the Red leader's death, is only 40 years old, but is considered one of the strong men of the soviet regime.

He was born in Tiflis, and at an early age was identified with revolutionary movements. At one time, under the czarist regime, he was exiled to Siberia for his pleadings to Russians to resist efforts to draw that country into the World war.

He has served in various capacities for the soviet government and when Lenin was stricken was one of the triumvirate which assumed control.

His wife has been likened by some writers to Catherine II of Russia. She lived in Paris before her marriage to Kamenef.

"The scandal-mongers are always saying things about Charlie and myself," complained the giddy young divorcee.

"I'm sure their remarks are unjustified," consoled the widow.

"That's just what makes it so hard."

Today's Poem

GIVE
We oft hear words in life today
That bring us joy along the way.
And leave us with a feeling dear,
When skies are gray and troubled here.

But, to my mind there comes a word;
The sweetest I have ever heard
Throughout this world in which we live,
(That little word is simply GIVE.)

Oh! folks may use their phrases fine,
And coin new words that "sound divine,"
The books upon our shelves may show
A master's art, but well I know
A sweeter sound there could not be

To bring delight to you and me
Than this dear word with meaning true.
That wakes the world to love anew.

We may be blest with wealth untold
And own the treasures had for gold;
Our home may be a lovely place,
Where, of life's cares there is no trace.

But—happiness in goodly store
Goes drifting by the polished door
If there the cold and selfish live,
Who know not what it means to GIVE.

—FRANCES ELLIOTT KANE

Smiles

SWEET STRAINS
The first sound was an ear-splitting crash, followed by a roar similar to that of a Niagara falling on a sheet of brass. Mingled with it was the thud of falling objects, an unearthly scream, a hideous grating sound, a death rattle, and a jangle of copper roofing. The noise grew into a bedlam, the ceiling shook and the walls trembled. There were sounds like the expiring agonies of giants in a sea of broken glass.

"Isn't the music heavenly," said the cake eater to the flapper.

"May I have the next dance?"

Comment From Exchanges

FORFEITING BAIL

(San Bernardino Sun)

Recently five men who had been arrested in Los Angeles on a charge of annoying women, and who were released on cash bail of $50 each, failed to appear in court to answer to the charge against them, evidently assuming that their bail would be forfeited and stand as a paid fine, thus settling the case. They were justified in this assumption, because such has been the practice of most courts. When the bail was as much as the probable fine, or more, it has been looked upon as a satisfactory way of quick disposal of cases and keeping the court dockets from becoming congested. If keeping the dockets clear were the chief reason for having courts, that might be done by the police ceasing to make arrests. If collecting revenue is the purpose of the courts, then this bail-fining system would be a good one.

In this particular case, the five men made an error in judgment, although a justifiable one. The court forfeited their bonds and then issued bench warrants for their arrest. It seems that it had been decided actually to enforce the law against mashers on streets. This little incident is a strong comment on the subject of why our laws are not obeyed. When a whole community acquiesces from the day to day operations of the courts the impression that their proceedings are merely perfunctory and the spirit of suppression of crime and enforcement of the laws does not actuate them, then disobedience of laws and disregard of them become a natural condition. Permitting a community to acquire the opinion that one may disobey a law and when arrested merely put up a nominal bail, which can be forfeited and the whole matter squared in that way, then the entire psychological effect of court proceedings and punishment is lost.

Such a system amounts in practice to buying the privilege of violating the law. The next step would be for prospective violators to keep a deposit in the hands of the court to pay all fines and thus avoid even the annoyance of an arrest.

Marking another step in the development of South Brand boulevard, the building at No. 1109, built for the Machtolf-Doll Electric Co., is one of the unique business structures of the city and typifies the progress and expansion made by this firm in its two years' existence.

The interior of the building follows the Spanish mission style, finished in blue and gold, with art stone floor. The front of the first floor is devoted to general sales and display rooms. Back of this are three fixture display rooms. At the extreme rear and rear of the adjoining room, 1107 South Brand boulevard, is the receiving and stock rooms. The second floor, the front of which opens as a mezzanine, contains the office and work and finishing rooms. The brick exterior gives South Brand boulevard one of its handsomest buildings.

E. G. Thomas, realtor, who is opening an office in the building, is the owner and builder. Mr. Thomas has been in Glendale about a year, coming here from San Luis Obispo, where he was a realtor and contractor for six years.

Rasch Bros., 715 West Pioneer drive, did the cement work. The firm, composed of William J. Rasch and George J. Rasch, have been in business in Glendale about two years and have filled some of the biggest contracts in the city. The Rasch brothers came from Alabama and are making a specialty of plaster work.

Glendale Sheet Metal Co., 733 South San Fernando road, did the metal work. This is one of Glendale's oldest and best known firms, having been here about 10 years, formerly located at 127 North Glendale avenue. W. H. Adams is vice president, treasurer and general manager.

Burkstaller and Smith, 320-F West Park avenue, did the painting and decorating. H. A. Burkstaller and D. C. Smith, the members of this firm, came to Glendale about three years ago from Roswell, New Mexico, and their work here can be seen in some of the largest buildings and residences.

Betz Bros., Brick, Hollow Tile and Concrete Block Contractors, 419 West Acacia street, did all the brick work in the new building. They also supplied all materials in this work. Mr. M. M. Betz, who personally supervised this job, has been in Glendale since 1909. Mr. H. E. Betz, a brother, is also a member of the firm.

Machtolf-Doll Co., occupants of the building, did the wiring and electrical work.

President Everett A. White Of State Association Outlines Ideas

For the first time in the history of the California Real Estate association a president has been formally inducted into office. In the initial inauguration ceremony, Everett A. White, long associated with the development of the business of real estate in Southern California, took the oath of office in his home town Santa Ana.

The oath of office was administered by Edwin T. Keiser, real estate commissioner of California. Freeman H. Bloodgood, first real estate commissioner in the United States was the master of ceremonies.

The constructive aims of the administration of President White were outlined in his inaugural address.

Education, legislation, industrial development, farm lands, taxation, standard forms and membership were discussed in detail by the new leader of the realtors of California.

U. S. to Prosecute Tax Violators In Bay City

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Assistant United States Attorney General Grove L. Fink has been summoned from San Francisco to Washington for a conference with treasury officials relative to the prosecution of numerous income tax violations in the San Francisco district, it was announced today by Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, assistant attorney-general.

Many wealthy San Franciscans were said by Mrs. Willebrandt to be among those against which the government is to bring action. Names of recent violators of the income tax law were not revealed.

Secretary of L. A. Chamber Of Commerce Is Assisting Industrial Council

"Many industries, for their own sakes, should be located in Glendale rather than in other parts of the Greater Los Angeles industrial area, and we are 100 per cent behind Glendale in landing them. Many prospects with whom we are now corresponding will be referred to the Glendale Chamber of Commerce if we succeed in bringing them here."

These were the words spoken today by A. G. Arnoll, secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. They were to Howard I. Wood, local chamber secretary, and were the response to an appeal from Secretary Wood and the industrial council of the Glendale body for the help and cooperation of the Los Angeles chamber.

Two main reasons were given by Secretary Arnoll why Glendale is an attractive industrial location.

He said the problem of congested traffic hindering incoming and outgoing deliveries of a factory are eliminated because of the efficient system of boulevards already in or planned for Glendale. He also declared that the labor situation here is unexcelled anywhere.

"The success attained by the Theyme Hosiery Co. plant which I located at Glendale a year ago is ample proof to me that big industrial concerns can and will prosper in Glendale," he said.

There was a marked excess of births over deaths in every state in the union in 1921.

PROSPERITY FOR COAST ON WAY

Greater Activities In Oil, Building, Agriculture, Real Estate Seen

By GIL A. COWAN

For Southland News Service. LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—Prosperity for the Pacific coast in several ways is augured by transactions and public statements of the passing week. Great activity may be expected not alone in building, but in agriculture, subdivision of estates and the development of mineral resources.

Los Angeles and all Southern California is hitting its stride in the continuance of an unprecedented building program, several leases and sales in six figures having been recorded, with a view to structural activity. Building of a better class of residences, as well as workers' dwellings, will go forward to meet the needs, although the apartment situation in the city proper is slightly overdone. As a result there will be slightly lower rents for the tourist than in the last five winter seasons.

Recognition of the Pacific coast and western states as the market basket of America makes the remarks of President Coolidge in a speech Thursday night pertinent to this section and worthy of consideration. He asserted that in a very few years the natural increase of population and trend toward industry will place the United States among nations producing a deficit rather than a surplus of agricultural staples. More fruit, vegetables and grain will be raised in California as irrigation projects permit. The dairy and poultry industries also advance by leaps and bounds.

Of importance to Glendale and Pasadena is the current announcement that Bert Farrar, Seattle

Building Total Aids In Upholding Values

The fact that building so far this year is a half million dollars ahead of the same period in 1923 proves that Glendale's prosperity continues unchecked.

Howard I. Wood, secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, sees in the $500,000 gain in building permits to date this year, over November 15, 1923, proof positive of this city's stability, and a complete refutation of all charges of "breadlines" and "slump" hurled from the envious middle west.

"In a year of general slowing down throughout the country," says Mr. Wood, "it is something doubly remarkable for Glendale to register a gain of a half million dollars in building permits over the total to date a year ago."

That news ought to be broadcast far and wide, and I would particularly like to have Oshkosh, Wis., tune in. A paper from that city, now lying in my wastebasket, contains a glaring headline about breadlines in Southern California. Glendale can refute to the last letter all such silly lies, just by presenting the facts of her unequalled growth.

T. W. Watson, chairman of the City Planning commission, views the $500,000 building gain this year to date, over the corresponding period in 1923, as an expression of confidence by the people of Glendale in their city.

"The fact that building has kept up unabated has confirmed values," says Mr. Watson. "All those months that business generally has been more or less quiet, people have been coming to Glendale in a steady stream, and have not hesitated to build their homes here. That is the kind of confidence that makes a city great."

"The development of Glendale is based on a solid foundation of values, and though there were some people of narrow vision who feared that these values might drop off during the months that have just passed, this stream of people and this mounting curve of building permits have sustained and even strengthened values. It is with pride that I think of Glendale, the city that did not falter."

YEAR TO ESTABLISH NEW RECORD IN CONSTRUCTION

With Price of Materials Lower, Increase in New Homes and Business Blocks Continues; City's Prosperity Is Greater Than Ever

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff.

Glendale today has a $500,000 lead over November 15, 1923, in building permits. When the building office closed today, the total for the year stood at approximately $9,000,000, as compared with $8,501,786 at the close of business exactly a year ago today.

These figures are official and are given out by H. C. Vandewater, municipal building superintendent, who last year won fame when his prophecy that Glendale would do over $10,000,000 worth of building during 1923 came true, the exact figure being $10,047,601.

Building Costs Down
With a month and one-half left before the period is put to 1924, Mr. Vandewater is satisfied that well upward of $1,000,000 in additional permits will be issued, closing the year with a new record that may even reach $11,000,000.

"When the fact is taken into consideration that building costs are down at least 15 per cent," says Mr. Vandewater, "it is readily seen that the increase in building operations this year over last year is greater than the actual figures show."

"Glendale has been built largely on the peak of material costs. We are now building on a down grade of material costs, and the public is beginning to realize that homes can now be built much cheaper than a year ago. This is bound to stimulate building within the next few months. I not only look to see 1924 close with a new record, but I predict that 1925 will be far and away the greatest building year this city has ever seen."

Bigger and Better
At the close of business today, a total of 2411 permits had been issued during the year, according to official records of the building department. At the close of business on November 15, 1923, 2594 permits had been issued, or 183 less permits this year, to date, than during a similar period a year ago. This figure is significant and indicates, according to Mr. Vandewater, that the people of Glendale are building bigger and better homes this year.

The subject of sketch shown herewith is one of the most pretentious undertakings in fine Home building. 1202 N. Rossmoyne Ave., on a slightly lot 100 ft. frontage. In the beautiful section of Rossmoyne known as the "Ellipse." There will be no sidewalks nor driveways through the grounds in front, permitting artistic lawn terraces rolling gracefully to curb, concrete roadway in rear.

This house, of "Flemish Architecture," with eight rooms and three baths, is of brick construction, to be covered with pure white stucco. Brick double Garage. Staggered shingle roofs. Patio, Cloister, Fountain. To fully appreciate the character of construction it should be seen before the finished plaster and stucco is on.

The price of this Estate complete is $27,500.

NEXT

Across the street, 1123 N. Rossmoyne, we have a most typical "Spanish" design with nine rooms, two baths, completely surrounding a Patio, with Fountain, Fish Pond and Barbecue Fireplace, all too elaborate for minute description here. Must be seen.

Selling price, $22,500.

FURTHER UP THE STREET

1243 N. Rossmoyne, facing Julio Drive, stands a "Spanish Adaption" of six rooms, Patio, Lot 63x148, double Garage, Tile Roofs, ready for occupancy in a few days, embracing every feature to commend, at the most consistent price of $15,000.

AROUND THE CORNER

To 938 E. Mountain you view with no uncertain admiration a five-room "Spanish," with arbor, Cloister and Garden effect, combining unequalled artistic beauty. Ready for delivery at $12,500.

NEAR BY

Cor. Dryden and Cordova. Don't leave without giving this five-room delight the once over. Distinctive "Spanish" design, commanding, impelling, unobstructed view. Will sell for $12,500.

All of the above are Homecrafts Corporation Standard Construction, notable contribution to Glendale Progress.

Include Rossmoyne in your itinerary for tomorrow, where personal representatives of HOME CRAFTS will be pleased to greet you, your family and friends. You will enjoy looking thru these houses, they are different.

confidence everywhere, accompanied by a strong buying market has developed. Wise investors and home-seekers who have waited until they were sure they were going to keep cool with Coolidge for another four years, are now eagerly shopping for bargains.

Plenty of Bargains
"And the bargains are on every hand. Unless sellers get hysterical and boost their prices, we should see this fall and winter the brisk real estate market in the history of the city. At present there is no sign of inflated prices. People who have wanted to sell are now selling, and people who have wanted to buy right are now buying. Glendale is going—and going strong. I have given up predicting, but we are headed for a population of 75,000."

The attitude of Mr. Thom is typical of the business pulse of the Glendale public. Everywhere a buoyant, enthusiastic attitude is met. Glendale is in for a great year, everyone agrees. Mr. Thom is singled out for quotation because he is a pioneer Glendalian who has lived here practically all his life and knows the city perhaps as well as anyone.

Realty men are reporting greatly increased sales, local merchants are doing an increased business, there are more automobiles on the streets, gas and electric meters are being installed at a record rate, houses are going up everywhere, business property is changing hands rapidly, several large structures are under way, including a $500,000 hotel at the northeast corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway, and in Glendale there is, generally, an undercurrent of activity that presages a torrent of development in the coming months.

FLOOR PLAN - NO. 1960

The Home Beautiful.

Surely no other home of equal size has ever been created embodying more distinctive ideas with complete harmony reflected from its every detail.

The exterior shows conclusively the careful study and competent executed efforts embodied, and the interior is divided into one of the most satisfying arrangements you could hope to find. The living room, a spacious affair with high ceiling; the dining room with fountain, cement floor, arched glass skylight; three bedrooms with large, airy closets; two baths; the breakfast room, one of the most attractive you have ever seen, and a kitchen that is a model of perfection.

Adopt this plan to build from and you will be one of the proudest home owners in the world.

estate, Mr. White stressed the education program of the state association now offering, through the universities of California and through the national association courses in real estate law and practice which are being taken by thousands of real estate brokers and salesmen throughout California.

Closer cooperation between the state association and the real estate commissioner of California was pledged by Mr. White, who stated that the report of the committee on legislation of the state association was of the opinion that no new laws were required, but that the utmost diligence of the ethical broker, supported by the real estate commissioner, would soon eradicate from this state the unethical dealer in real estate.

Industrial Development

"To have a balanced prosperity, the people of California must have ever-increasing opportunities to work for industrial wages," said President White. "We must develop commerce and manufacturing. Great industrial wealth can be created here. Almost every article in human existence can be successfully and economically manufactured in California, in smaller as well as the larger cities. The realtor here has a real opportunity to render service to his community."

"I believe we are at the beginning of a great development in farm lands in California, far surpassing anything of recent years," continued Mr. White who bases his statement on observations made on his recent trip to the middle west. "One crop farmers must diversify. California soil will produce nearly every agricultural product. We rejoice with the farmers for the better prices which farm products are bringing. When the farmer can buy, all business is stimulated."

Discusses Taxation

On the most important subject of taxation, Mr. White reviewed, briefly, the situation insofar as real estate is concerned. "Real estate and improvements are the basis of 60 per cent of all our wealth, but pays between 75 to 80 per cent of the taxes. As this deadweight increases it tends to make the purchase of real estate less desirable. Capital is being diverted into other lines of investment, which bear a disproportionate share of the expense of government. The matter of a more equitable distribution of taxes thus relieving real estate is one of our great problems," concluded the new president.

real estate man, has consummated his deal for the 1800 acres in Sycamore canyon which he has controlled and developed for subdivision purposes the past fifteen months.

Another 1500 acre tract between Santa Ana and Newport Beach also will be subdivided for small home owners, many of whom will be employed in Orange county industrial plants, it is planned.

An upturn in mines which is due with industrial expansion will bring more money into the south-west, while an American oil shortage within the next few years will keep operators on the qui vive in discovering new fields in California, as well as elsewhere. Renewed activity in Kern county will follow an advance in prices of crude which now are at low ebb.

NATURAL FEED IN LAKES FOR FISH

Frazier Mountain Park Well Cared For, Says Expert
On Finny Tribe

Abundance of natural feed that exists in the lakes and streams of Frazier Mountain park will permit the fish that are to be placed in these waters to attain a size of from sixteen to eighteen inches within a year and a half, according to a report to the directors of the Frazier Mountain Park & Fisheries Co., Inc., by Leigh Garney, manager of the Rainbow Angling club at Redlands, who has just made an inspection of the property with a view to preparing for releasing the 100,000 fish that were recently purchased from his club by the company.

One of the lakes at Frazier Mountain park will be devoted entirely to the rearing of the fish. Vice President W. L. Twining declares, and within the next few weeks, Mr. Garney and George Isaac, fish expert, will go to Frazier Mountain to confer with the officials of the company regarding the plans for the construction of the rearing ponds.

Plenty of Food
In a letter to the company Mr. Garney points out that there is plenty of clear, fresh water and unlimited natural feed to support the fish that will be turned loose in the lakes, and that this feed will relieve the company of any necessity of worrying over their development after they leave the rearing ponds.

By this means, declares Mr. Twining, the company will be able to provide sport the year round for the anglers and other devotees of fishing who have cabin sites at the park.

The work on the chain of lakes is progressing rapidly, several being already completed and others will be ready to turn the water in them within a short time.

Molen's art rest shop, 417 East Broadway, has just received a large assortment of wheel goods for Christmas, and to introduce the new line is offering reduced prices. This includes baby buggies, doll buggies, chairs for children, tricycles and coasters.

Phil D. Molen, proprietor of the shop, came here about three years ago from Santa Barbara where he had been in the same business for five years. He says that any need or rattan piece of furniture can be repaired, no matter how badly damaged, and his shop is equipped to do general repairs. In addition he manufactures reed and rattan furniture and sells imported grass goods.

He makes special designs to match sets and can carry out any color scheme. Mr. Molen carries a large stock of baskets and trays, bird cages, lamps and outdoor furniture, and a mattress store of the highest quality.

Realtor Sees Election Bringing Big Results

R. N. Greenlaw of the Glendale Realty Co., 131½ South Brand boulevard, reports today a greatly stimulated real estate condition since the election. In the week ending today, he said, he has made the following sales: North-east corner of Doran and Geneva streets, to W. N. Woodside, builder of many fine homes in the section, and who plans to improve the property with a large house; 120 feet on North Columbus avenue, to Ralph Bartlett, who comes from Oregon and will build at once; and fifty feet on McHenry road, just off East California avenue, to Walter Johnson, who will build a duplex and cottage in the rear.

Mr. Greenlaw believes the present activity is just the beginning of a season of intense activity.

Typical of Old England

Ample room for the average family is to be found in a house constructed along the lines shown in the floor plan below. The front terrace and flower box carries one back to merry England, where this style can often be seen in the countryside.

This substantial looking home which is built along English lines is much more spacious and livable than one might think upon first glance. There is a good sized front porch enhanced by a decorative flower box and a front terrace which adds much beauty to the place.

There are three large rooms and bath: the living room being 16 feet by 12 feet; the front bedroom 10 feet by 11 feet 6 inches and the rear bedroom 10 feet by 10 feet. Between these two bedrooms there is a good sized hall which leads directly into the modern equipped bathroom. In back of the bathroom is a very large clothes closet which is always a desired feature in any home.

The well located kitchen, with its many built-in features, has a large, well lighted breakfast nook and back of this is a screened porch 7 feet by 8 feet. This home contains many distinctive and unusual features which set it apart from the ordinary and make it a design particularly popular with home builders who prefer to reflect their own personality. Designed by Pacific Ready-Cut Homes.

REPUBLICAN CLUB ELECTS TUESDAY

Committee on Organization
To Report at Meeting
In City Hall

Committee on organization of the newly formed Glendale Republican club, headed by Col. James W. Everington, met yesterday afternoon and completed its roster of nominations for temporary officers and directors. No announcement of those who have been nominated will be given until the meeting Tuesday night. R. S. Person, temporary chairman, said:

"There will be an adjourned meeting of Republicans at the council chamber in the city hall, Tuesday night, November 18, at 7:30 o'clock, to receive the reports of the committees on constitution and by-laws and organization and take action thereon. At this meeting it is proposed to adopt a constitution and choose officers for a short term ending February 12, 1925. Lincoln's birthday anniversary; also to choose an executive committee of five for the same short term. The Glendale Republican club will then begin to function as a permanent organization.

"Every Republican who attended the initial meeting a week ago, to the number of about sixty-two, is urged to attend next Tuesday night and bring at least one new member.

Invite Republicans
"Invitation again is extended to all local Republicans to attend and take part in the proceedings, local members of the Sixty-first Assembly District Republican club are cordially invited to become 'charter members' of the Glendale Republican club. Local members of any other Republican organization are also included in this invitation.

"The draft of the constitution which will be submitted with a unanimous committee report for its adoption, contains the preamble, reciting the object of the organization: 'To aid in preserving the integrity of the constitution of the United States, and the form of government ordained and established by the fathers of our republic; to promote patriotism and respect for law and established authority; and to perpetuate the Republican party as a virile political agency of better government and to enlarge its influence as the dominant constructive and defensive force in American politics.'

"That expresses a realizable ideal and it calls for the best that there is in us. Join us in putting together a clean-cut political organization with high purpose and then give it your active support to keep it such."

Fathers' Auxiliary of Colorado P.-T.A. Meets
Interest in the fathers' auxiliary of the Colorado Parent-Teachers' association was revived last night at a gathering at the school, where more than 125 school patrons assembled for a meeting and informal time.

Mrs. Frank W. Parr, president of the P.-T. A., presided and gave greeting to the parents and teachers present. L. C. Leeds, president of the fathers' organization; Miss Ida M. Waite, principal, and Miss Annie L. McIntyre, assistant superintendent of schools, spoke. Children of the fifth and sixth grades presented a colorful patriotic pageant, "The Spirit of Youth," in which Gwendolyn Gaugh appeared as the Goddess of Liberty. Mothers of these two grades were hostesses of the evening. A violin and saxophone duet was given by Basil Gulick and Donald Fuller. There were twenty-five fathers present to renew their interest in organizing to aid the mothers in the Parent-Teachers' association work.

Mrs. Warrick Chosen Worthy Grand Matron

Mrs. Mae Warrick, prominent in local Eastern Star activities, was elected worthy matron of Glen Eyrie chapter last night at the meeting in the Masonic temple.

Other officers elected are Mrs. Sadie McPherson, associate matron; Frank B. Beatt, worthy patron; Mrs. Bertha Wyvell, conductress; Mrs. Dollie Kase, associate conductress; Mrs. Ida N. Gillman, treasurer; Mrs. Nelle P. Holbrook, secretary. Appointive officers will be announced by Mrs. Warrick before the installation, December 26.

Mrs. Jennie E. Phillips, retiring worthy matron, presided over last night's meeting. In addition to the election there was initiation of four candidates.

PERSONAL NOTES

Mrs. William Hadley of Fox Ridge, S. D., is visiting her son, Albert Hadley, 1208 Viola avenue.

The J. B. Brown Co., contractors, are building a four room bungalow for C. M. Fessler at 550 West Palm drive.

A. E. Wright is starting a six room modern stucco at 645 West Dryden street. This is one of many homes built by Mr. Wright.

A. Hofsetter is completing a five room bungalow at 617 West Dryden street. Mr. Hofsetter is a builder well known in Glendale.

Realty Board Week Planned as Drive To Secure Members

The local realty boards, comprising the California Real Estate association, have got the "week" fever and are uniting in a week to be known as "Realty Board Week" during which time they will make a drive to include in their organization all brokers who are not now members of the board. In this drive the local board will have the co-operation of the California Real Estate association.

John N. D. Griffith, secretary of San Diego realty board; Harvey Humphrey, secretary of San Joaquin Valley Realty association; W. E. Mellinger, secretary of Long Beach board of realtors and Edward Grace, secretary of Pasadena realty board are the officers of the California association of realty board secretaries who are co-operating in the drive and urging local boards to make it a feature of the week of December 1 to 6.

CONGRESS ASKED TO ACT BY G. A. R.

N. P. Banks' Post Petitions
For Repeal of Law
For Confederates

C. H. Clark, adjutant of N. P. Banks post, No. 170, Grand Army of the Republic, reported today that at the post meeting yesterday resolutions were passed concerning the Stone Mountain Confederate Monumental association and the 50-cent memorial coins authorized by Congress. The resolutions follow:

"Whereas, by a law of Congress, approved March 17, 1924, the director of the mint was authorized to issue 5,000,000 memorial 50-cent pieces, which coins, when so issued, are to be turned over to the Stone Mountain Confederate Monumental association of Atlanta, Ga., the profits from the sale of such coins to be used in carving out of said Stone Mountain a monument, the prominent features of which shall be the figures of Jeff Davis, Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson, three traitors, who are to be thus honored and commemorated because they were leaders in the endeavor to destroy our government in order that human slavery might be perpetuated, and

Postal Clerks Plan Thanksgiving Dance

Glendale postal clerks and their wives and friends have completed plans for a big Thanksgiving masquerade dance for Monday night, November 24. A live turkey will be given away as a door prize with other special awards for the best costumes. The dance will be held at 335 North Brand boulevard. Members of the postal clerks' local organization, C. J. Donaldson, Lloyd Gomes, Henry Weger, Otto Hinze and Rodger Boss, are the committeemen in charge of arrangements.

treason, which time has not changed any more than it has changed the treason of Benedict Arnold or Judas Iscariot, and as such treason and such traitors cannot be honored without dishonoring and insulting the men, living and dead, who fought to maintain the Union and crushed the slaveholders' rebellion, and believing that such law was enacted without fair consideration of its effect, therefore be it

"Resolved by N. P. Banks post, No. 170, department of California, that we respectfully ask Congress to repeal such law, and further ask that, if any such coins may be issued before the law can be repealed, there be placed on them only the figures of persons who were always loyal to the Union. And be it further Resolved, that our post adjutant is hereby directed to send a copy of these resolutions to President Coolidge, the president of the Senate, the speaker of the House, the two senators from California, our congressman and the secretary of the treasury."

Friends Give Reception To Rev., Mrs. Thomas

Rev. George W. Thomas, former pastor of Grand View Community church, and Mrs. Thomas, were tendered a reception by members and friends of the church at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Black, 250 Kenneth road, last night. A program was given. Mr. Holt, chairman of the entertainment committee, introduced the speakers. Mr. Daltry, former organist at the church which Rev. Thomas formerly had charge, played piano selections. Philemon Bevis spoke, and Mrs. Bessie Morgan sang "Shoopy Shoo" by Paul Ambrose, "Twickenham Ferry" by Marzials. Rev. Thomas told how much he appreciated the cordiality of the people and their earnestness to assist him. Mrs. Hunt, a former soloist for Rev. Thomas, sang "For All Eternity" by Henry Hunt, and "My Jean" by Caro Roma. Miss Thomas, daughter of the pastor, entertained with humorous readings, and David Black, in a speech, complimented the congregation for faithfulness to and cooperation with the pastor. Refreshments were served and games played.

Drought, Forest Fires Damage Cattle Raising

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15.—Drought and forest fires have done severe damage to cattle raisers in Louisiana by destroying range. Many breeders are offering cattle for whatever they will bring, as hay is $40 a ton and other feeds proportionately high.

Checks Stolen From Laundry Are Found

Checks amounting to more than $200 which were stolen from the safe of the Premier laundry, 825 North Pacific avenue, two weeks ago, were returned today. The checks were discovered on East Wilson avenue near the Crystal Ice Delivery plant by R. E. Eifler, an employee of the ice company. He gave the checks to H. C. Henderson, driver for the laundry who turned them over to R. W. Starr, manager. No trace of $300 in cash which was taken at the same time, has been found. All the missing checks with the exception of two small ones were found by Mr. Eifler, the laundry manager said.

Detroit Orders Fifty Buses To Aid Traffic

DETROIT, Nov. 15.—Detroit United railroads has just ordered fifty buses from the Yellow Coach Co. of Chicago, to transfer passengers from the downtown terminal here to five outlying stations to avoid congestion on the city street cars, the tracks of which now are used.

Silk Concern Raises Production Schedule

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Nov. 15.—Lecha Silk Co. has raised its production schedules and is working an eight-hour day five days a week.

Industrial Experts To Address First Annual Conference

The first annual industrial conference of the California Real Estate association, to be held in Anaheim, December 6, will be featured by addresses to the realtors and industrial experts by many men prominent in the industrial development of California.

"Building payrolls in California" will be the subject of an address by Charles S. Knight, San Francisco, director of industrial development, California Development association. Mr. Knight has long been associated with the location of industries in California, and his subject is one which will indicate the value of industrial development to the cities, large and small, of California.

"What Lines of Industry are Being Attracted to and Can Be Attracted to Southern California," has been the subject upon which A. G. Arnold of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has been invited to address the conference.

Youths Get Scare as Rocks Hit Police Car

Six boys bent on mischief got more than they reckoned for last night, when at about 10 o'clock they laid down a barrage of rocks in front of an approaching automobile on Sycamore Canyon drive, near Colorado boulevard. The car, instead of containing the ordinary variety of long-suffering motorists, had Sergeant John D. Cole of the Glendale police department at the wheel.

Even when the car stopped, turned around and started back, the boys did not realize their mistake, but let fly another volley. One sizeable rock whistled between the windshield and Sergeant Cole's face. He grasped his piston, leaped out and fired two shots straight up in the air, "to teach the kids a lesson."

The group of mischief makers burst apart like an exploding firecracker. Their footprints in the sandy soil of a nearby orange grove, fifteen feet apart, testify to a sudden and desperate flight that lent ten-league boots to their departure.

4 Killed, 14 Injured In Florida Coast Wreck

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 15.—Four persons were killed and fourteen injured, following the wreck of a rear day-coach on a Florida East Coast railway passenger train. A broken brake beam forced the car from the rails. It bumped along a few rods and then toppled over on its side, crushing its victims.

CHAPTER XX

"We had better go down," he said, turning to Gertrude. "The captain wants to consult me about the course. I have promised Lord Yeovil that he shall be back at ten o'clock. And I have an appointment myself later."

"What sort of an appointment?" she asked a little jealously.

"Nothing of any moment," he assured her.

They descended the steps, Grant pausing to speak for a few moments with the captain.

"I'm tired of all these people," Gertrude declared abruptly. "Take me into your music room and I'll play to you."

He shook his head. Lymane was glowering at them from the rail, and Rose Lancaster was sitting alone.

"Alas!" he murmured. "You must remember that I am a host."

"I shall flirt with Arthur Lymane," she threatened.

"You've done that already," he answered drily.

"Nonsense, I've only trifled with him," she laughed. "He's a nice boy but conceited. Walks in his master's shadow and fancies himself a diplomatist. He is as some one once said of a war time Prime Minister—full of small reticences and bubbling over with ingenious disclosures."

"How did you discover that?"

"When I talk to him I have to pretend to be interested in politics," she replied evasively.

"There is nothing else he can talk about."

Susan cut out of the rubber and Rose took her place. Grant crossed over and sank into a chair by the former's side.

"Any luck?" he enquired.

"Thirty francs, thanks to Mr. Blunn. He's a daring caller but he plays the cards wonderfully."

"A most interesting character," he remarked.

"Father seems to like him," she agreed. "The only German he has ever liked."

"And you?"

"I like him, too, or rather I think I do," she replied, after a moment's hesitation.

"There are just odd moments when he gives me rather a quaint impression of insincerity. I dare say that's fancy. Grant, you're giving us a wonderful day."

"I want it to be," he answered. "It's very nice to get you all here, and I fancy it must be rather a relief to your father to be right away for a few hours. No messages or cables possible. Hullo!"

He looked up at the masthead. Susan followed his example. There was a little crackling of blue fire there.

"I'm afraid I spoke too soon," he pointed out. "The wireless is evidently working. I mean to have had it disconnected."

Lord Yeovil, who was playing a hand, paused for a moment and looked up curiously.

"I should like to have been Prime Minister to Queen Elizabeth," he grumbled. "One might have had a chance of a few hours' holiday then."

"Not you, Dad," Susan exclaimed. "You'd have found making love to her all the time much more strenuous than law-making."

"My knowledge of history is slight," her father rejoined, "but I don't fancy that Queen Elizabeth showed much amorous interest in elderly widowers."

The Marconi operator presented a message to Lord Yeovil. He tore it open, nodded, and waited till the young man had retired. Then, after a moment's hesitation, he glanced across towards Gertrude, who was leaning against the rail, with Lymane by her side.

"My news is official," he said, "but there is, I imagine, no secrecy about it. It will probably interest you, Princess."

"Net!" Gertrude exclaimed, looking genuinely surprised.

"It is a cable from Berlin," Lord Andrews had wirelessed on to me. Baron Katrina left this morning with cable credentials to take

DOBINSON PLAYERS

The Dobinson Players presented "Adam and Eva" at a matinee this afternoon and will offer the popular Bolton-Middleton comedy again tonight, the curtain rising at 8:15 o'clock. The play will be offered again next week, starting Wednesday, November 19, with Wednesday and Saturday matinees, announces Mrs. Florence Dobinson.

The father, James King, as played by George C. Pearce, is a comedy character and true to life. Mr. Pearce is a veteran actor and shows his experience upon the stage by the way he capably handles his roles. Mary Isabelle Alpaugh as "Eva" has her first chance in a leading role and portrays this vivacious, sparkling character with charm and finesse. Miss Alpaugh is doing splendid work with the Dobinson Players and is being recognized as an actress of versatility.

Naga's place here. I am informed that he is accompanied by Prince von Diss."

"Otte! My husband!" Gertrude cried.

Lord Yeovil assented. "Is your husband, by any chance, a Japanese scholar, Princess?" he asked.

"He understands Japanese," she replied. He learnt it at Tokyo years ago. He has been over there once or twice since on missions."

"That probably explains the matter," Lord Yeovil pointed out. "Katina has the reputation of being a great diplomatist, but he has only just commenced the study of European languages. The Prince is probably coming with him as inspector."

Gertrude's face was, for a moment, scarcely beautiful. She was looking across at Grant. Susan intercepted the glance and laughed, for her, a little maliciously.

"What a catastrophe!" she murmured.

A steward handed round cocktails. Blunn looked at the beautiful glasses, with their slight frosting, and rose to his feet, as he accepted one.

THE GATEWAY

"The Clean Heart," which will be shown at the Gateway theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, is based on the novel by A. S. M. Hutchinson, the English author. In writing recently of how an author feels for the characters he creates, Mr. Hutchinson said:

"The odd thing is the way I actually feel sorry when the immense task of developing a novel is through. I have often thought it was mere affectation of authors to declare that they were quite moved when obliged to part with their characters and send them out into the world. But I have found it is a fact. One can't, I suppose, live with characters for years, school them, scold them, be patient with them, love them, without their getting pretty close to the heart. Anyway, I found myself genuinely disturbed when it was good-bye, good-bye to Writford, dear old Puddlebox and jovial Essie in 'The Clean Heart.' I loved them one and all."

He had thought over the theme of "The Clean Heart" for years, longed to tackle it, but completed two other novels before he started it. He always thought it would "be it" book. He took two years to write the story. In the fall of 1913 he thought he had evolved the final plan of the book, but five months later he had revised the plan to a drastic extent. "The Clean Heart" brought him tributes of a kind which no other of his novels has evoked. He has a natural aptitude for humor and perhaps the outstanding characteristics is his genius for friendship. And the natural counterpart of that is that he hungers for friendship in return. It is their personality that he injects into his stories and that is the secret of their appeal.

Percy Marmont is cast as Writford, Otto Harlan as Puddlebox, and Marguerite de la Motte as Essie.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY WRITES A LETTER

"Please don't bother me for a little while, Nurse Jane," called Uncle Wiggily one afternoon to his muskrat lady housekeeper. "Not that you ever really bother me," he went on, "but I am now going to sit down and write a letter. And as I'm not very good at writing I shall be glad if you don't shout at me."

"Shout at you! What do you mean?" asked Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy.

"I mean, don't call me to open a window or bring up some coal or turn on the fire or anything like that," said Mr. Longears.

"I'll do anything you like now, before I begin writing my letter. But once I have started work with pen and ink I don't want to stop."

"All right," laughed Nurse Jane. "Just put a little coal on the fire and that's all you will have to do for an hour. Can you write a letter in an hour?"

"I think so," answered the bunny. "This letter is to the Lady Mouse School Teacher. She asked me to come next Monday and tell the class some stories. So I'm writing to tell her I'll be there."

"All right," squeaked Nurse Jane. So when Uncle Wiggily had put coal on the fire he sat himself down quietly in his room with a pen and a bottle of ink to write the letter. He used a piece of white bark from the birch tree for paper.

If there had been growing any blackberries or red raspberries or huckleberries Uncle Wiggily could have used the juice of them as ink. But this was November, and no berries grow in cold weather.

So Uncle Wiggily had bought himself a bottle of black ink. Finally it was the second bottle he had bought, for he poured the first bottle of ink down the throat and on the teeth of the bad Bob Cat, as I told you in the story last night.

"Tra-la-la! Tra-la-la! Tra-la-la!" sang Uncle Wiggily to himself as he began his letter. He wrote: "Dear Lady Mouse School Teacher, I shall be glad to come to the Hollow Stump School on Monday."

"Hum! I wonder what else I can say," thought the bunny. He laid the pen down on the table, but the pen rolled off to the floor and the sharp point stuck in the bunny's foot, for he had taken off his shoes, as he had a corn that hurt him.

"Ouch!" cried the rabbit gentleman as the sharp pen point stuck him. "Writing letters isn't as easy as it seems." He picked up the pen and dipped the end in the ink. Then he was going to write down the name of some of the animal children in school, when, all of a sudden, the door of his room softly opened.

"Tut! Tut! Didn't I beg of you not to bother me, Nurse Jane, when I was writing a letter," laughed the bunny. "Please go out and shut the door."

"I'm not Nurse Jane and I'm not going out and shut the door, either, Uncle Wiggily!" growled a voice. "I'm coming in and bite you; that's what I'm going to do!"

"Oh, are you?" cried the bunny, as he took a firm hold on the pen. "Well, I'll have something to say about that. Here, take this!" With that Uncle Wiggily gaily threw the pen as an Indian might throw a spear or shoot an arrow. And the sharp point of the pen stuck in the nose of the Bob Cat, as it had stuck in the bunny's foot after bouncing from the floor. Right in the nose of the Bob Cat stuck the pen.

"Wow! Oh, my nose! What are you doing?" barked the bad chap.

"I'm making believe you're a letter and I'm making a mark on you—I'm giving you a black mark. Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny as he saw where the pen had splattered the ink on the Bob Cat.

The bad chap pulled the sharp pen from his sore nose and ran away, howling, leaving the bunny laughing. Then Mr. Longears finished his letter in peace and quietness. And if the baked potato doesn't pop out of the oven and try to play ball with the molasses jug, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the twister.

Extradition of Gland Doctor Is Denied State

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 15.—Governor Jonathan M. Davis has refused definitely to honor a requisition from the governor of California for John R. Brinkley of Milford, Kan., charged with having practiced medicine as a gland specialist in California under a fraudulent license. After a series of hearings this week, Governor Davis decided that the evidence as submitted by the California authorities did not justify honoring the extradition request.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Hubby Doesn't Like 'em Fat
"My dear Doctor Lulu: I have been reading your column for quite a long time and feel as though you were a personal friend of mine. Some of the nice things you write to your followers actually make tears come to my eyes. I don't know why it is but almost every time I read something nice, tears gather in my eyes. There are so few who have nice things to say, no wonder we notice them."

"But this is what I am writing for and enclosing the self-addressed stamped envelope and ten cents in stamps—the booklet on reducing. I am 25 years of age and am five feet, five inches, in height, and weigh 175 pounds. I don't want to gain any more weight. I used to be thin until four years ago. Please help me as my hubby doesn't like fat women. Most of my fat is around the hips. I have cut out eating potatoes and butter. I will write again when I hear from you. May I?—Mrs. A. N."

I'm afraid you are a little emotionally unstable, Mrs. N., if anything I write makes tears come to your eyes! You will have more poise and self-control after you are reduced, for reducing scientifically improves the general health and the nervous system becomes more stable. I believe you are wrong in thinking that few people have nice things to say. You have said nice things to me and you say I say nice things, and there are more people in the world besides these day and me. Mrs. N. You'll realize that on second thought, I'm sure."

It is better to cut down on bread, cereals, sweets and all fats rather than just potatoes and butter. Of course, when you are counting calories, you can allow yourself some sweets and other things you like, after you have had the foods that supply the mineral elements, vitamins and protein your system needs.

More specific directions are given in the booklet which you have by this time.

You should do some special exercise for your hips. Place your hand on something to steady you and kick as high as you can, back and forth and to the sides. If you will kick 100 times a day with each leg, as high as you can, in two months you should notice a

Presents Program

Broader appreciation of Dudley Buck as musician and composer, was gained yesterday by those attending the meeting of the music department of the Tuesday Afternoon club at the clubhouse. Mrs. Alexander Mitchell arranged the program, which included a sketch of Buck's life and groups of his vocal and instrumental compositions. Mrs. Mitchell herself gave the biographical sketch. The musical numbers on the program demonstrated splendidly the scope of the composer's work. J. Arthur Myers, accompanied by Mae Orchild, sang "The Silent World is Sleeping" and "Coming Home." "My Dream" and "When the Heart is Young" and "Little Merry Brown Thrush" were sung by Mrs. Helen Lumpkins, accompanied by Miss Orchid. Miss Orchid also accompanied Milford C. Jackson, who sang "Where Lindens Bloom" and "Sunset." Mrs. E. R. Ripley, pianist, played "Festival Prelude," "Communion in E Flat" and "Etude." Mrs. Roberta T. Young, curator, presided over a short business hour.

Annual Bazaar

The annual bazaar of the J. O. C. class of the Pacific Avenue Methodist church was held last night at the church with a large crowd attending. A cafeteria supper was served from 5:30 to 7:30 o'clock, in charge of Mrs. W. H. Robinson. There were five booths with the following women in charge: Mesdames Don McGill, Alice Rowe, George Moore, Steve Patterson, Mary Scott and Miss Mary Mullen. Proceeds of the bazaar will be used to purchase silverware for the church. An enjoyable program was given in the social hall. Mayor Spencer Robinson entertained with vocal selections with Mrs. Robinson as accompanist. George Moore sang selections with Miss Lela Whitehead, as accompanist. Mrs. Marlow entertained with two readings and later Mrs. W. H. Robinson played piano solos.

Attend Meeting

Chapters of War Mothers in Los Angeles county held a meeting yesterday at the Disabled Veterans' hall, 246 South Hill street, Los Angeles. Glendale chapter was represented by Mrs. J. M. Cowlin, president. Mesdames J. N. McGillis, Susan Bradish, Estelle Stevenson and Grace Dreyer. Mrs. Anna Overman, district organizer, presided over the meeting and reports were heard from the various chapters on the work they are doing. Mrs. Cowlin gave a report for the Glendale War Mothers. Whittier, Los Angeles, Pasadena and Long Beach chapters were represented at the meeting.

Church Benefit

There were ten tables of five hundred in play at the benefit party given yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joseph Wagner, 416 West Myrtle street. First prizes were won by Mesdames M. J. Brennan, Trembley, E. P. Parker, Zimmerman, and Frank Yeager. Mrs. Lundregan won the consolation prize. Refreshments of cake and coffee were served at the conclusion of the games. Proceeds of the affair will go to the school fund of the Holy Family Catholic church.

Turkey Dinner

Roast turkey was the piece de resistance at the dinner served by the Missionary society of the Broadway Methodist church at the social hall Thursday night. One hundred fifty people were present and the proceeds of the dinner will be used for church purposes. Entertainment, including musical selections and readings, was furnished by the male quartet and Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Roper, singers from Carthage, Missouri.

Elect Officers

Election of officers took place at the meeting of Glen Rose chapter, No. 351, Neighbors of Woodcraft, held Tuesday night at the American Legion hall, 610 East Broadway. The newly-elected officers will be installed at the meeting in January. The new officers elected were: Dagmar Smith, past guardian neighbor; Minnie V. Littleton, guardian neighbor; Laura Chrisman, adviser; Una Longmeyer, magician; Sylvia Barber, clerk; Pauline S. Doose, banker; Katherine Brown, inner sentinel; Mrs. Powell, outer sentinel; Mrs. Grace Doughty, attendant; Margaret O'Donnell, captain of guards; Mrs. Crawford, Charles Littleton and Mr. Dougherty, managers; Adelaide Meyers, musician; Miss Edith Carter, flag bearer. Mrs. Agnes Fussell, district organizer, was present at the meeting. Plans were made for a food sale to be held at Washer Wilson's, 205 East Broadway, on Saturday, November 22. Mesdames Margaret O'Donnell, Laura Chrisman and Minnie V. Littleton will be in charge of the sale. Plans are also being made for a card party to be held at the next meeting on November 25 and Mrs. Adelaide Meyers is in charge. Refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served by Mrs. Chrisman at the close of the business session.

Luncheon Honor

In compliment to Mrs. Charles I. Peirce, who returned recently from travel abroad, Mrs. S. C. Leppelman of 357 West Milford street was luncheon hostess yesterday. Her guests were a group of members of the General Richard Gridley chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, who were entertained at luncheon before Mrs. Peirce left on her trip, with Mrs. T. W. Preston as hostess. After luncheon yesterday Mrs. Peirce told of her trip and showed pictures she brought home as souvenirs. Invited for the luncheon were Miss Ida D. Myers, Mesdames Mabel Franklin Ocker, J. A. Crawford, W. G. Lyman, E. W. W. Hayward, C. W. Houston, T. W. Preston and the honoree.

Hold Box Social

Royal Neighbors and their friends held a very enjoyable social last night at the Knights of Pythias hall, corner of South Brand boulevard and Park avenue. The affair was a box social. An enjoyable program had been arranged, including piano selections by Mrs. Fahrenholz, violin solos by John Mathis, piano duet by Estella and Evelyn Rockwell, reading by Ella Zalbruckner, and a fancy dance by the Musko sisters. The Royal Neighbors, drill team gave a drill, and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

At Baldwin Home

The Past Noble Grands' association of Arbutus Lodge Rebekah lodge, of Los Angeles was entertained yesterday at the home of Mrs. Gertrude E. Baldwin, 211 East Acacia avenue. Seventeen members were present for the meeting, which was held all day. At noon dinner was served by Mrs. Baldwin, with the assistance of Mrs. Reece Catterman. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Crafts, 1509 East Twenty-second street, Los Angeles, on December 12.

Y. L. I. Meeting

Glendale Institute, Y. L. I., held a regular meeting Thursday night at the Knights of Columbus clubhouse, 330 East Lomita avenue, Thursday night. Miss Henrietta Meek, president of the organization, had charge of the business session. The next meeting will be held November 27.

BARGAIN BILL AT BALLPARK SUNDAY

White Sox Play Pasadena, Killefer Will Appear, O'Leary to Walk

One of those big bargain bills is going to be dished up for local fans tomorrow afternoon at the Glendale White Sox park on San Fernando road when the Sox meet the Pasadena Merchants, Glendale pays tribute to Wade "Red" Killefer, pilot of the pennant winning Seattle Indians, and Dan O'Leary, world champion walker, struts around the bases twelve times in ten minutes and meets Mayor Spencer Robinson in a walking duel as a sideline.

The Pasadena Merchants have for many months past been the rivals of the White Sox. Lorin Ury has gathered an aggregation of big time ball players as his representation in the Southern California Winter League and will bring them to Glendale tomorrow determined to get a good start in the first division.

Sam Ross, left handed hurler who won fame with several big league teams, and hurled last season for the Portland Beavers, will do the mound work for the visitors tomorrow. Howard Lindimore, of the Salt Lake club, will hold down one of the infield positions. Charley Deal of the Vernon Tiger team, and Joe Ullman, of the Pittsburgh Pirates, are included in Ury's lineup.

White Sox Crew
Ken Penner, pitching ace with the Vernon crew last season, will do the hurrying for the local team. Bert Whaling, who played with the Boston Red Sox in the days when they were winning world championships, will be behind the plate. Manager Ray French, stellar shortstop of three leagues, will direct the team. Bill Shields will be at third. Killefer will wear a Glendale uniform and play in the outfield along with Charley Dorman and Emerson. Pitcher will hold down second and Jimmy Reese will be on first.

Killefer, in addition to playing with the local team, will look the diamond over as a spring training camp for next season. The Indians wound up their training here last season, and it is rumored that Killefer has hopes of spending the entire working out period in Glendale.

Dan O'Leary is too well known to need further introduction. He is eighty-four years old and has set many records at walking that younger men have been unable to. He is an old-time friend of Mayor Robinson, the singing mayor of Glendale having raced Dan forty years ago in Rock Island, Ill., and the walking duel tomorrow will be the turning back of history.

FISH PLentiful OVER SOUTHLAND

Planting In San Bernardino Hills Gives Sportsmen Plenty to Take

By CAL FISHER
For Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—W. H. Shebley, superintendent of fish culture for the California Fish and Game Commission, is in the southland this week to look over the fish situation and making note of work done by deputies planting fish in the San Diego and San Bernardino mountain streams.

Mr. Shebley reported hatcheries have delivered five tank-loads of trout and other game fish in the southern section of the state to stock the streams now filled with water as a result of early rains. While many fish are reported to have died during the drought sportsmen report there is no apparent shortage.

Fish and Game Commission
Officials are high in their praise of Los Angeles county for having cast more than 40 per cent of the "yes" vote in favor of keeping the Klamath river for fish culture, although the city and county comprised only 27 per cent of the total vote on the measure. It was very evident, in the opinion of one representative, that the Electro Metal Trust, which was seeking to dam the river for power purposes, did not appreciate the number of true sportsmen in Southern California as they continued the big guns of their campaign and expensive advertising to the San Francisco district.

Edwin Hedderly told of the situation now confronting duck hunters visiting Orange county preserves. The birds are reported to be staying out at sea and not coming in as usual for the morning drink of fresh water. The birds are at loss to explain what the ducks are drinking, for they cannot quench their thirst with salt water.

Game is plentiful this season, especially in the Imperial valley where much irrigating now is being done.

But there are more than a half million hunting licenses issued this year and the necessity for more preserves and clubs to which the public may go are necessary to supply the demand of sportsmen. There may be an effort at the next legislature to increase the license fee, it was hinted.

Notre Dame And Nebraska

Gridiron history for the 1924 season will be written this afternoon when the Fighting Irish from South Bend mix with the Cornhuskers on the home ground of Knute Rockne's men. A victory for the Horsemen will mean a clean slate, but the boys from Bryan's state have a different idea.

Boxing Notes

Dick Hoppe lost a chance to bring the Pacific coast lightweight championship to Glendale last night when he unintentionally fouled Tommy Carter in the third round of their battle at Hollywood American Legion stadium. Up to the unexpected finish of the battle, Hoppe had been out in front, hitting Carter with everything but the buckets and posts. He took the first round by a big margin, and pounded Carter all over the ring in the second stanza.

On more than one occasion Hoppe slipped in stinging blows to the body and crossed them with a right to the head that made Carter give ground. Hoppe was timing his blows better in the first two rounds than Carter was, and his clever footwork and spectacular dodging caused Carter to stir up a lot of breeze with blows that failed to reach their mark.

Sailor Billy Vincent and Red Williams had the fans who jammed the stadium on their toes throughout the semi-windup, the affair being called a draw. Williams earned a draw by his whirlwind finish. Sailor Ackerman surprised the customers when he won the nod over Johnny Grella. Grella had been picked to win by a knockout. Nate Slott was awarded the decision over Henry Marcus in a rather tame battle. George Lavy won over Mark Purock, and the decision was unpopular.

AT CLEVELAND—Eddie Anderson, Wyoming, and Willie Ames, Akron, fought twelve rounds to a draw. Benny Gershe, Cleveland, won from Joe Pagolina, Louisville, eight rounds.

AT NEW YORK—Young Marullo, New Orleans, won decision over Battling Siki, France, twelve rounds; Allentown Joe Gans, Allentown, Pa., won decision over Angie Ratner, New York, twelve rounds; Vic Erog, Pittsburgh, won decision over Jim Canero, New York, six rounds.

CONSTIPATION OVERCOME
The use of FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS will bring speedy relief from constipation if taken promptly. They are purely vegetable and act on the liver. Mr. John D. McComb, Lucas Co. Home, Toledo, Ohio, writes: "Have used FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS in several cases of constipation to which I am subject and found them beneficial." FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS are easy to take, leave no unpleasant after effects. Try them.

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Written for the Evening News.
Knute Rockne, wonder man of Notre Dame, is driving his "Irishmen" through another great year on the gridiron. His team stands out once more as one of the most powerful ones in the game—east or west.

The only obstacle that stands between Notre Dame and a perfect season is Nebraska.

But that barrier is in the same class with a row of spiked planks across the road. And for two years Rockne's men have "blown a tire" on the Cornhusker's spike just when the road seemed clear.

So this year's game between the Indiana team and the Nebraska eleven looms up again as the biggest on Rockne's schedule. Two years ago Notre Dame beat Georgia Tech 13 to 3. The Rockne crew played the Army to a scoreless standstill. Then came the Nebraska game. Practically every writer in the country picked the Notre Dame backfield to run wild once more and trounce the Missouri conference kings.

One man was an exception—the late Xen Scott of Cleveland, Ohio. Scott will be remembered in the south at least as the man who put Alabama university in the front ranks of football.

Scott stated in an article before the Nebraska-Notre Dame game that a team with a powerful line could stop Notre Dame. Nebraska had that line. True to Scott's prophesy the far westerners held Notre Dame to one touchdown and scored 14 points against the Indians.

Last year Notre Dame again plumed through the season at a terrific pace. Best the Army 13 to 0. Trounced Princeton 25 to 2. Annihilated Georgia Tech 35 to 7.

Then one gray afternoon, on a slippery, muddy field, Notre Dame and Nebraska clashed. Nebraska's defense proved adequate again and the Cornhuskers won, 14 to 7.

That Nebraska once more has a great defensive team is indicated by the fact that it held Illinois, Red Grange, et al, to a 9 to 6 score although the Illini won. That same defense held Kansas to 7 points, Missouri to 6 and Colgate to 7 points.

So the same line "hazard" faces the Rocknemen once more. Despite these setbacks by Nebraska Notre Dame has had a glorious career under Rockne.

The fighting "Irish" coach lives football and makes his men live it. One reason for his ability to produce a winning team each year is his system of developing two teams each fall.

He divides his squad into two sections, one of varsity material and one of freshmen and beginners. He works as diligently with this second squad as he does with the varsity. By the end of each season he has produced from these "scrubs" what is practically a complete eleven, from which he can draw men for the following year—men who have already learned many of the fine points and intricacies of the game as he teaches it.

WALTER CAMP SAYS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 15.—The football season is on its last lap. Teams in various sections which started with high hopes find themselves in the rack and out of the running for first places but still sanguine of defeating some favorite rival and so making their season at least a partial success.

As the teams start this final lap the most interesting to the football fan in the eastern section are Pennsylvania, Dartmouth and Rutgers, all powerful and full of fight. Each of these teams has stars worth watching.

The old rivalry between Yale and Princeton will bring out the great crowd for their plays. Each has a wealth of backfield possibilities. Between them they have almost a dozen backs of calibre to gladden the heart of any coach.

Out here on the Pacific coast, California and Stanford have, with some mighty strenuous times, pulled themselves through to the top and are awaiting the whistle for their great contest at Berkeley on November 22. The California center is a star worth watching and Nevers of Stanford, if it will take some stopping.

Through the middle west they are talking about Nebraska's great tackle Weir, who seems to be one of the outstanding linemen west of the Mississippi.

Cornell's steady advance in his two early season defeats is worrying the unbeaten Penn eleven and it looks as though the Thanksgiving day game between the two would be a bitter contest.

First Benefit Affair By Club Successful

Success marked the first benefit affair of the Women's Athletic club, a bridge and five hundred party yesterday afternoon and last night at the W. W. Worley home, 1560 Grand View avenue. Approximately 200 persons attended and it is predicted that the club will realize $100 as a nucleus for a building fund.

Countless roses, chrysanthemums and other flowers were used in decorating the Worley home. Prizes in the afternoon went to Mrs. C. W. Hull for five hundred; Mrs. Joseph Deitrich, high score, Mrs. W. C. Kirk, second, for bridge. At night prizes were awarded to Miss Halverson, high score, Mrs. Harriet Farnham, second for bridge; Mrs. R. W. Brown, for five hundred. Los Angeles rose bushes were prizes.

Mrs. Marshall R. Ferguson was general chairman of the affair. Assisting her were Mesdames J. I. Wernette, V. M. Hollister and Helen Ward. Mrs. J. H. Toal, club president, and Mrs. Wernette poured.

Citrus 2 3 0 .400
Monrovia 0 3 0 .000

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.
Upsetting the predictions of a close game, Coach Hicks' Glendale lightweights copped the third Central league football pennant for Glendale Union High school this season by swamping the South Pasadena striplings, 23 to 0. Johnny Lovell, Dwight Stewart and Bennie Brennan starred for the locals. Archie Neel, Glendale center, blocked a South Pasadena punt in the second quarter, but missed a chance to make a touchdown when the ball took a backward bounce.

The first quarter indicated that the game would be hard fought, but the young Dynamiters found themselves in the second and third quarters, pushing over three touchdowns. Johnny Lovell tried three times for a field goal in the first quarter from the thirty-yard line, and on the last attempt put the ball over. His first attempt missed by a scant two yards.

In the second quarter Neel paved the way for the first Glendale touchdown, when he blocked a South Pasadena kick. Sturges recovered for Glendale. With Glendale's half on the fifty-five-yard mark, the locals made yards, aided by two three-yard bucks by Lovell. Harris went over from the two-yard line on an off-tackle play. Lovell converted.

Tigers Threaten
At the start of the third quarter the Tigers threatened to make a score. A pass, Ball to Young, netted fifteen yards. Glendale was penalized fifteen yards for tripping; this brought the ball to Glendale's thirty-yard mark. Ball was forced to punt and his kick rolled outside on the Glendale three-yard line. Harris punted from behind his goal to the Glendale forty-five-yard mark.

Brennam intercepted a South Pasadena pass and ran it back ten yards, and crossed the goal line on the next play after receiving a twenty-yard pass from Harris and racing thirty yards for a touchdown. Lovell converted.

The locals made their last touchdown in the closing minutes of the third quarter, when Glendale recovered a South Pasadena fumble, made yards twice, and scored when Porter crashed through on a center buck. Lovell's last attempt for the extra point was blocked.

Whistle Helps
The Tigers rallied in the last period and nearly scored a touchdown. Young picked up a South Pasadena fumble in midfield and ran to the Glendale eighteen-yard mark before he was forced out by Harris. A long pass from Ball was barely nabbed by Mysterly on Glendale's three-yard mark. One buck took the oval to the one-yard line, but before the next play was completed the final whistle blew. Dynamiters Battle Pomona In Opening Round of Play-Off Pomona High will meet Glendale next Friday in the first round of the Southern California grid play-off. The scene of the battle has not as yet been decided. Coach Hayhurst's boys have been chosen by the C. I. F. to represent the Central league. Pomona has an exceptionally strong outfit, copping the Citrus Belt schedule with four straight wins and no defeats. A big football rally with a bonfire and serpent parade will be held on the local grounds Thursday night to arouse enthusiasm for the game. The Dynamiters will appear in uniform.

SPORTDOM ALL OVER

By JOSEPH L. KELLEY
Of The Evening News Staff.
Old boy up in Portland has that indoor sport of brewing synthetic gin looking like nursery play. He's brewing synthetic gold—real, honest-injun gold—that any gunman would prize over an eye-tooth. He and his partner have taken more chances with their lives brewing the 'touch of Midas' than a tenderfoot does trying to hang to the short hair seat of a wild steer.

Both boys are 'members of this club' and tell the world to 'try and get the secret.' Won't tell anyone for fear population would have heads blown off stirring brew.

Old boys have spent a lot of years brewing a piece of gold size of a flea's eyeball. They brew real gold but not much of it. They figure that with same brewing working 200 years without strikes they'll have nuff of stuff to strike a medal for Andy Gump's keeping faith with his constituents and forgetting to stay put on the November ballot. They might have enough after Andy is taken care of to buy sunshade for Barney Google.

Manufacturer of washing machines offers $1000 bonus to sales outfit breaking 1924 record. In Southern California. Looks like Sunshine end of gold rush territory was going to be kept clean and starched as well as sunshined.

Modern machines great improvement over scrubbing board type. Gives women more time for double-crossing puzzles. Mah Jong and clothesline chatter. Little models look like gold fish bowls with inmates staging submarine riots.

Mexican Chamber of Deputies ordered to check playthings at door when revolutions are talked over on the inside. Little skirmish other day left one of leading two-gun orators in serious condition. Doctors don't know whether to treat for neuritis or blast for lead.

Following riots of early in 'week, ammunition smugglers' stock rose higher than rails in Wall Street. Enough bullets scattered to make anchor for Pacific fleet. And all over the mere mention of a woman's condition. Wonder who they'd be if woman was elected to Chamber. Probably drag in all available cannon and machine guns.

FLASH—Colorado's onion crop is stronger than last year's.

Everything looks like world series times to Babe as he soaks up California sunshine. Movie offers Babe in greater numbers now than Ty Cobb's hits during the diamond months. Babe "shot" with Doug and Mary and looked so different from "Ruddy" Valentino that they continued shooting to multiply footage when they only wanted a flash.

When he isn't under the Kleigs with Doug and Mary Babe's managing prize fighters. Dick Hoppe is his first charge. Babe whispered through the ropes last night at Legion Stadium in Hollywood, trying to keep Hoppe's mind off of too many gloves coming from the general direction of Tommy Carter.

Only thing Babe hasn't tried in California is selling real estate. Great game Babe. All you need is a book agent's nerve coupled with the commanding oratory of Demosthenes and the funny oratory of Will Rogers to get started. Easy enough to sell real estate. Hard part is getting paid for it.

LAWRENCE DERRY SAYS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—If the Palmer stadium at Princeton could hold a hundred thousand and more spectators the Yale game today would see it filled to bulging.

Complaints of grads who waited until too late to file their applications, or who are not quite satisfied with the seats they have, are filling the air.

Out in Michigan an angry alumnus who applied in plenty of time for tickets for an important game could not get them and went to the mat with his grievance in the public prints.

The editor of The Michigan alumnus took up cudgels quite vigorously, pointing out that in its character as a state university Michigan differs from such privately endowed institutions as Yale, Harvard and Princeton and that the desires of citizens of the state in the matter of football tickets are as legitimate and proper as those of alumnus.

That is a pretty strong statement, but no one can deny it is a plain fact. Yet the grad has one answer, which is, let the public build stadia for state universities that will occupy the area of municipal parks.

Princeton alumnus can make their complaints without the feeling that their rights are no greater than those of the general public in respect to football tickets but when it is grasped that every graduate of Princeton, Yale and other privately endowed universities was educated by the institutions at a cost which amounted to about half the money these colleges spent in educating each individual alumnus, his prerogatives in the matter of preferred seating at the game do not look very impressive after all.

If this fact were generally appreciated your old grad would be less vociferous than he usually is and his alma mater would pay less attention to him.

Illinois is apparently being pestered to play some post-season games. Other outstanding eleven will be similarly annoyed, if they have not already been. George Huff, graduate manager of Illinois comes out with a definite statement that no games will be played after the close of the regular season.

It could seem that it was hardly necessary for Mr. Huff to pay attention, busy man as he is, to matters of this sort. For there are only two reasons that underlie challenges of the sort. When they come from an institution which owes a very proficient eleven they imply a desire for further exploitation in the way of advertising, and when from other sources the motives are purely mercenary.

From Harvard sources comes a protest against kicking off from

RINGSIDE GOSSIP BY FAIR PLAY

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—They've got a medium out in Newark who beats all these spirit mediums that Conan Doyle ever met. For whereas the Doyle medium brings back Washington, Aaron Burr and the rest the spirit bear brought back Charley Weiner.

And Julius Caesar is not deader than Weiner was up to the time he began to prepare for Wednesday night's match with Luis Firpo.

Any promoter who has a heavy who needs action cannot do better than hook up the Newark Adonis—always granted that Weiner stays home by his own fireside, with wife knitting in the corner, as he evidently has been doing of late.

What Charley did not do to Luis in the ring at the Armory in Newark on Wednesday night is not done in the prize ring. For 12 rounds while a mob of 6000 shouted and shrieked and stood on their chairs Weiner walked around Firpo like a cooper around a beer keg.

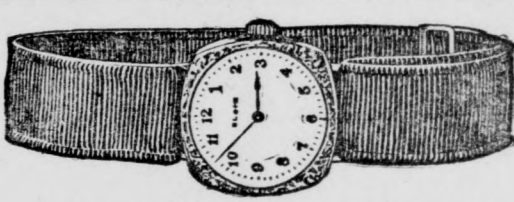

He hit the big fellow when and where he liked and at the same time he never gave the Bull a chance to get set for one of his famous blows. It was an exact reproduction of the Brennan-Firpo fight up to that time in the 12th round when Brennan for some unknown reason stuck his jaw in the way of one of Firpo's rights.

But Weiner was not sticking his jaw in anybody's way. He made Luis miss so often and in so many ways that it was funny and at the same time he never let up with his left hooks and jabs. When the fight was ended Firpo's face looked like an uncooked beefsteak and the pallid blood beauty of the adonis was not marred by so much as a scratch. Even his hair was not mussed.

Weiner ten years ago was regarded as the cleverest heavy in the ring. Well, if he isn't entitled to that reputation right now the writer knows nothing about boxing.

midfield, the complaint being that in a great majority of cases the ball goes over the goal line for a touchdown, whereas in the old days when the ball was booted from the 40 yard line it fell in the field of play more often than not and gave the receivers chances for run backs, always a spectacular play.

At least this was the Harvard protest (Harvard alumni bulletin) before the Princeton game of last Saturday. In view of Slagle's two 40 odd yard dashes from kickoff in the Princeton-Harvard game some change of sentiment has probably been experienced in the Cambridge editorial sanctum. On the other hand, perhaps not. For, as a matter of fact, there do seem to be many more touchdowns from kickoff this year than ever before.

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, Nov. 15.—
Over 400 people were served last night at the cafeteria dinner given by the members of the La Crescenta P. T. A. in the school auditorium, where twelve tables proved insufficient to take care of the good-natured crowd. Service began promptly at 6 o'clock and half an hour later the line was extended out into the corridors. Through efficient management of the committee, the service was up to the minute, no one being kept waiting at the tables.

Due to the untiring efforts of the president, Mrs. C. W. Angier, and her assistant, Mrs. Elcide Armer, contributions of food and firms: Beef from the Verdugo
City market, Cutting & Neblin; salmon from the loaves, Montrose grocery, Hoffman & Fowler; vegetables, Mrs. Stirling of Montrose; potatoes, Gavie grocery, Southland. The service was up to the minute, no one being kept waiting at the tables.

Mrs. Peck of the La Crescenta school cafeteria was responsible for the delicious roasts that were so popular and also prepared the potatoes. Pies were made in the valley and being donated by
"the mothers."

After the dinner the girls' Glee club, accompanied by little Miss Constance Angier, sang "Sunshine" and "Bonnie Laddie, Highland Laddie," which were well received.

The Girl Scouts of La Crescenta valley held their first Court of Honor when those who had earned merit badges received them. The program opened with the salute to the flag, the Girl Scout promise, and the presentation of the presentation of the merit badges by Scout Captain Jessie Hansen, who gave an outline of the work done by the girls and the tests each Scout had to pass before being entitled to badges.

Mrs. Margaret Brown of West
Montrose received the greatest number, having six pinned on her uniform. Dorothy Potter came next. Other Scouts to be honored were: Doris Rose Doris Rose,
Mildred Maravilla, Eileen Kar,
Gladys Knox, Sara Goldenberg,
Leona Crowell, Elizabeth Talbot, and others.

Little Frances Hodensack delighted her audience with her rendition of "When Pa Is Sick" and "Sister Ben."

Particularly interesting were the views of the old English castles and cathedrals shown by Dr.
Montague Cleaves of Briggs Terrace. The pictures were made by Dr. Cleaves on his last trip abroad.

Dr. Cleaves' description and short history of each building added to the charm of these bits of the old world, showing as they did structures erected 900 years ago down to the fairly modern St. Paul's of London.

Two piano numbers were given by Miss Lytsel, assistant to Miss Margaret Hauber, who was unable to be present. Miss Lytsel chose her numbers well, receiving hearty applause.

Mrs. C. E. Angier extends thanks to the following women who have been elected to the committees that added to the success of the undertaking by their earnest co-operation: Mesdames
E. Farmer, Montague Cleaves,
George Hansen, S. S. Young, D.
Nylan, F. Oster, Virginia Herman
Glen, and Dr. Montague and to the husbands who also worked to the success of the school cafeteria
as they arise.

There will be no session of the La Crescensta Valley schools on Monday, November 17.

The Modern Brotherhood of America was fully organized at the home of A. C. Cox on East Altura avenue. Officers of the new fraternal body are: Val Findlay, president; Ernest Cleaves, vice-president; A. C. Cor, secretary and treasurer; John Zook, chaplain. Arrangements have been made to rent the new Verdugo

FOLEY PILLS REACHED THE SORE SPOT
Mrs. Ellen Reigard, South Fork, Pa., writes: "I had been suffering with my kidneys and nothing seemed to touch the aching spot until I procured FOLEY PILLS, with wonderful results." FOLEY PILLS, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys, gently and thoroughly flush and cleanse the kidneys and help to eliminate poisonous waste matter. Try a bottle today and you will be well pleased with the relief obtained. The use of FOLEY PILLS increases kidney activity. The Iroquois Swimming and Dancing Club offers:
A Club Which Is Really Private, a Club-house of Which to Be Proud, Members With Whom You Want to Associate

That, in short, is the story of the Iroquois Club. But it must be gone into in much more detail before you can fully appreciate just what a membership in this Club will mean to you. You know that it is only a matter of a short time until the beaches will offer few places where you can really enjoy swimming in comfort. The only solution is private clubs. THE IROQUOIS SWIMMING AND DANCING CLUB IS THE SOLUTION.

Here at the Iroquois you not only have a large Roman Plunge, and large Ballroom, but a magnificent Clubhouse offering all the additional pleasures of Club life the year round. It is the only logical method you have of obtaining your portion of recreation and happiness. The time is not far off when it will be the only way. Already many who appreciate the situation have become members. A glance through the partial list appearing to the right will convince you that the type of people who are now members of this Club are among Glendale's best citizens.

NOTE LOCATION AND ACCESSIBILITY
Central and Arden Avenues, just a few minutes from office or residence.

Limited Membership, $100.00
After this allotment is completed, the price will then increase to $150.00 and up. Memberships are transferable, non-liable, and non-assessable. Dues only $3.00 a month. All Applications Must Be Approved.

THE IROQUOIS SWIMMING AND DANCING CLUB OFFERS YOU:

In addition to the Ballroom and Plunge, your membership will give you all privileges in a steel, concrete and brick Clubhouse, also Dining Room, Gymnasium, Beauty Parlors, Sun Room, Lockers, Cigars and Confectionery, Fountain, Mah Jongg, News Stand. In fact the Building will be fully equipped for Sports and Amusements. You can see for yourself the opportunity of such a Club. You can easily see how the memberships will increase in value.
